

Paris, Aug. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—The Germans introduced the black market to Paris and then became victims of this Frankenstein financial monster.

"The black market was the only business in France making money," said Alec Jean Grelet, a floor waiter who has been opening hotel doors unexpectedly for 29 years and says nothing any longer surprises him. "Everybody in France buys in the black market as much as he can afford," he related, "but since most workmen in factories receive only about 125 francs a day—that is about $2.50 in your money—you can see he had a hard time of it."

The "Marche Noir" or black market originated with the Germans because they were the only source of supply, Alec said, "but then later they too had to buy in the black market for many things if they stayed on."

Nazis Lived High
Alec has the cosmopolitan outlook enjoyed by most veteran waiters; and his theory is that most of the Germans who occupied France benefited because the conquered French taught them how to live.

"Those Germans didn't know life until they came to Paris—nobody had taken the trouble to teach them how to live," he said. "And they never lived so well in Germany as they did in Paris."

"At the beginning," he continued, "they didn't like the French wine and kept demanding cognac and beer but before they left so hurriedly they had learned to enjoy wine. They no longer were gas-troscopic savages."

"Many of them had plenty of money because they had goods to sell in the black market. They played one Frenchman against another and you had to buy in the black market because everybody from workers to bankers did so, just as much as they could afford and there wasn't anything—not one thing—you couldn't buy if you only had the money."

$46 For Shoes
The only penalty for black market dealers caught violating the Vichy restrictions was three months in jail and then they could go back to work and refreshen, and re-open.

"Of course anybody who had anything anybody else wanted was in the black market," Alec continued. "Goods have meant more than money here all through the war."

The French for the last four years had been allowed to buy two pairs of shoes annually with ration tickets and they cost about 400 francs or $2.00 a pair.

"On the black market," Alec said, "they cost 2,000 to 2,500 francs a pair—$40 to $46—without tickets."

Alec, who had two trim patches on his left shoulder of his worn but neat black waiter's jacket, said a suit of clothes of ordinary good quality cost about $23 to $32 with tickets. But on the black market they cost $160.

Cigarette Shortage
"But the cigarette shortage troubled us almost as much as anything because for many of us it was our only luxury and you have to have some small luxury to live," he said.

Alec puffed on an American cigarette I gave him as it was a delicious meal.

"We could only buy four packages of cigarettes a month with tickets—they cut us from six to four," Alec related. "The packages cost only 13 francs but lasted only a few days. Most of the cigarettes were sold on the black market and came from Belgium. They cost 150 francs a package. Have you another cigarette?"

That question is being put scores of times daily to every American soldier in Paris by the cigarette-hungry populace which seems to yearn more for an honest smoke than for a steak dinner.

County Soldier Is Wounded In France

Mrs. Dorothy S. Bream, of Five points, York Springs R. 2, received a War Department telegram Wednesday night informing her that her husband, Pfc. Clyde F. Bream, 24, had been slightly wounded in France August 9.

Mrs. Bream received a letter from her husband last week in which he stated he had been wounded and had been removed to a hospital in England and was "getting along nicely."

Private Bream is a member of a mechanized cavalry unit. He was inducted into the Army in July, 1942, and has been overseas since March of this year.

He formerly lived in Fairfield and was employed before his induction at the Harrisburg steel company.

Mrs. Bream, who is employed at the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, also has a brother, Pfc. Donald Stevens, in the Army.

PAYS FINE
Samuel B. Long, Jr., Drumore R. 1, Lancaster county, paid a $10 fine and costs after appearing before Justice of the Peace John W. Base, here on a charge of driving too fast for conditions on York street. Borough Officer Clark W. Staley filed the information.

Four Allied Armies Chase Germans

DELIBERATING MANSLAUGHTER CASE IN COURT

The manslaughter charge against Maurice C. Wagner, 25-year-old truck driver from near New Chester, was placed in the hands of a jury of eight men and four women for deliberation early this afternoon as the court took up the last trial of the August session. Sentence court is scheduled for Saturday.

Trial of the manslaughter case occupied all of Wednesday afternoon and this morning as more than a dozen witnesses were called to the stand by District Attorney J. Francis Yake and Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., counsel for the defense.

Testimony that conflicted in many details was presented by witnesses queried about the accident which cost the life of two and a half year old Leon James Menzies, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Menzies, Abbottstown. The child was struck as he attempted to cross the Lincoln highway in front of his home, east of the square in Abbottstown.

Absolved Driver
On the stand in his own defense this morning Wagner said that his truck, heavily loaded with pulpwood, was in danger of upsetting as he braked and swerved in a vain effort to avoid striking the child.

He quoted a Commonwealth witness, Mrs. Leo Alland, aunt of the victim, as saying immediately after the accident: "You couldn't help it. The child ran right out in front of you." Mrs. Alland was the only eye-witness of the accident among the more than a dozen persons who testified.

Pvt. George Ackerson of the state police, investigator and prosecutor in the case, said the truck traveled 256 feet after striking the child. He quoted the driver as naming 25 miles an hour as his speed and described braking and speed tests made with a truck at the scene immediately after the accident.

He said that on a test Wagner was able to stop the truck within 80 feet of the point he applied the brakes. The officer differed with Wagner and two other defense witnesses about the point where the truck stopped in the brake test.

Arrested on Process
Both the Commonwealth and the defense displayed photos of the scene and the truck which was owned by George Millhimes of near New Chester. Character witnesses called for Wagner included Sheriff John E. Millhimes. Taking of testimony in the case was concluded about 11 o'clock this morning.

Attorneys made their closing arguments to the jury before noon and only the court's charge remained for this afternoon's session.

The only case remaining for trial is that of Chauncey Laughman, Abbottstown, who is charged with two serious offenses by Pvt. Robert E. Dietrich of the state police. Laughman was called Wednesday but was not in court. A process was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody in Chambersburg about 1 o'clock this morning by Sheriff John E. Millhimes.

Harold J. Pegg Is Promoted To Major
Capt. Harold J. Pegg, formerly stationed at the New Cumberland reception center but now executive officer with a specialized training unit at the Holabird Signal Depot, Camp Holabird, Md., has been promoted to the rank of major. The promotion was effective August 7.

Major Pegg, who was moved from New Cumberland to Holabird on April 12, is the husband of Mrs. Laura Pegg, Hanover street. The couple has one daughter, Barbara Ellen, aged five years. Major Pegg had served at New Cumberland since his induction for active duty on March 5, 1942, as a second lieutenant.

He is an alumnus of Gettysburg college in the class of 1925.

Youth Solos On His 16th Anniversary
Warren R. Van Dyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Van Dyke, Gettysburg R. 5, is the youngest student to solo at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics. Leon Witzelman, instructor at the local airport, said today.

Young Van Dyke, who is too young to take the pre-flight course at the high school, started flying instructions at the airport about two months ago. Wednesday evening, on his 16th birthday, he soloed for the first time after nine hours of instructions.

Germans Steal R. C. Supplies

With the Seventh Army near Lyon, France, Aug. 31 (AP)—Troops in this area found three railroad cars, labeled "not to be opened, International Red Cross property," broken into and rifled. All around the area of a side track onto which the cars were shunted were torn cartons of food and medical supplies, which the French said were taken off when the Germans fled this sector several days ago.

POLIO SPREAD CURBED HERE; NO NEW CASES

No new infantile paralysis or meningitis cases have been reported in Adams county during the past week and local health authorities are hopeful that the spread of the dreaded diseases has been curbed through the precautions taken in the recent health ban.

The recent cool weather is also believed to have helped considerably in preventing further cases.

During the past 24 hours numerous rumors were in circulation throughout Gettysburg to the effect that a new case had developed here but this was definitely discounted by the young patient's physician.

Dr. C. H. Johnson told The Gettysburg Times this morning that Patricia Coalsmith, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coalsmith, Breckenridge street, definitely does not have meningitis or infantile paralysis.

The youngster had a sore knee but a careful check of her condition failed to reveal any dangerous symptoms. She is considerably improved today, her physician said.

Peak In September
Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—With 627 cases of infantile paralysis officially reported in Pennsylvania by the Department of Health, Deputy Secretary Dr. J. Moore Campbell said the present outbreak will probably exceed the 1941 total of 741 cases.

PARENTS GET WORD FROM SON IN NAZI CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coffman, Bedford avenue, received a letter this morning from their son, Sgt. Charles B. Coffman, 20, a prisoner of the Germans since his B-24 was shot down over France April 22 while on a bombing mission in the Ruhr valley.

It was the first word the local couple has received from their son since his ship and crew were reported early in May as having been missing since the April mission excepting for a War Department message on July 15 stating that the Gettysburg youth was known to be a prisoner of the Germans.

"Fit as a Fiddle"
The letter was written May 13 from Stalag Luft 6, a camp which the Coffmans say they have learned is in East Prussia.

The letter follows: "I don't want you to worry too much about me for I am fit as a fiddle. I am a prisoner of war. We are treated just the same as soldiers. The reason I am here is that our ship was hit and we had to bail out. I was lucky and didn't even get a scratch. Mother, now all we have to do is pray for the end of the war."

Sergeant Coffman, who went overseas about March 1, was assistant crew chief and nose gunner in his bomber.

Nephew Receives Awards In London
Mrs. Genevieve Oyster Biglerville R. 1, has received word her nephew, First Lt. F. M. Sommerkamp, a reconnaissance pilot, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Purple Heart and a group Presidential citation in London last week.

Lt. Sommerkamp received several silver stars in the arm some time ago while on a European mission.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reese, Fairfield, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital this morning.

A daughter was born at the hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glass, Emmitsburg.

GOP ENDORSES MRS. SHEFFER AS NEW CLERK

Mrs. Emma E. (Sachs) Sheffer, widow of Howard W. Sheffer, clerk of the courts of Adams county who died Saturday evening after suffering a fracture of the skull in a fall at his court house office, is being recommended by the Republican organization in Adams county for appointment to fill the vacancy caused by her husband's death.

The office will be filled by appointment by Governor Martin. The appointive term will end December 31, 1945, with a successor being named at the general election in November, 1945.

Mrs. Sheffer has the personal endorsement of County Chairman John R. Basehore and the unanimous approval of the members of the GOP executive and advisory committees in the county. Those groups, meeting with the county chairman Tuesday evening primarily for the purpose of making plans for registration of voters before the general election, endorsed Mrs. Sheffer.

Will Help "Off" Year
The action by the county GOP leaders apparently has stopped campaigns which were being launched in favor of several persons who sought the office. So far as could be learned today no independent effort is being made to gain the appointment although several persons consulted party leaders in search of support for their respective ambitions.

Political leaders pointed out that the shift of the clerk election to 1945 will bolster an "off-year" county election that usually finds the candidates for county treasurer "carrying the ball" alone—both as to campaigning effort and financial contributions. Now there will be two important county offices at stake on the "off" year.

The clerk and treasurer races may be overshadowed in 1945 by the fact that it is the year for the election of a president judge of the county courts.

Would Be First Woman
If Mrs. Sheffer is appointed, she will be the first woman ever to hold a major county office although there have been women deputies in most of the court house posts.

Mrs. Sheffer has been a deputy clerk since her late husband was taken ill about a month after taking office at the first of the year. She was in the office almost daily since her appointment.

Legion Auxiliary Leader
A woman clerk will give the office of the clerk of the courts an all-female staff for the first time in its history.

MUST REPORT SALE OF CARS

The OPA today announced that all used car dealers will be requested to file at the Harrisburg OPA office a list of all used automobiles they have sold during the period July 10 to August 10, 1944, inclusive. Information to be listed includes make, model, year, body type, serial number, and selling price of each used car sold during the period specified. Lists should be filed on or before September 15.

In connection with used car sales, purchasers are advised that dealers are now required to place a ticket on each car offered for sale. The ticket must show the ceiling price, specify whether the car is offered at "warranted" or "as is" price, list any "extras" for which there is an allowable additional charge (radio, heater, or special built-in feature such as fluid drive, overdrive, hydromatic transmission, etc.) unexpired use tax, etc.

OPA Certification
To sell at "warranted" prices, the dealer who does not maintain in his own establishment, complete automotive repair facilities, must show the prospective purchaser, on request, his OPA certification to charge "warranted" prices. Such certification can be obtained by dealers who do not maintain repair facilities, by application to the OPA district office, which will approve applications of dealers who can show satisfactory evidence of having made contractual arrangements with bona-fide automotive repair establishments, to service all used cars sold by the dealer who wishes to obtain approval to charge "warranted" prices.

It is also pointed out to prospective purchasers that used cars may not be sold above ceiling prices, but may be sold at less than ceiling prices.

Road Resurfacing Starts In Cemetery

Work has begun on the resurfacing of all of the roads in the original section of the Evergreen cemetery and that part will be closed until approximately September 7. Philip R. Biske, president of the cemetery association, announced today.

John S. Teeter and Sons, Gettysburg contractors, are doing the work which will consist of the laying of a new surface of stone, asphalt, stone chips and a finishing coat. Approximately 3,500 feet of the roadway will be covered.

Work in the new section of the cemetery will be limited at this time to parking, Mr. Biske said. That part remains open to visitors.

4 REGISTRARS APPOINTED BY COMMISSIONERS

Four registrars for the special registration to be conducted throughout the county from September 15 to October 7 were appointed by the County Commissioners at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday at the court house.

Those appointed include two Republicans and two Democrats and one from each party will sit at the voting places on the days designated.

The Democrats appointed were Mrs. Garrude Saeferinger, Conewago township, and Amos Shelly, Arendtsville. Republicans were Roger Keefer, Littlestown, and Madeline Smith, Mount Joy.

All of the voting districts, with the exception of Gettysburg, will register from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of the days specified.

The new registrars will be at the following voting places on the dates listed:

East Berlin and Fairfield, September 15.
Conewago township and Biglerville, September 16.

Bonneauville and Idaville, September 18.
Two Taverns and Bendersville, September 19.

Abbottstown, September 20.
New Oxford and Arendtsville, September 21.

Cashown and McSherrystown, September 22.
Littlestown and York Springs, September 23.

Register Here
In Gettysburg the commissioners' office at the court house will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of September 30 and October 6 and 7, and voters also may register there any other day during regular business hours from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m.

In other years registration has been conducted in all of the townships at the voting places, but Clarence Smith, secretary to the County Commissioners, said today that the scattered and staggered registration system had been adopted as an economy measure from a standpoint both of money and manpower.

He said that the county chairman of both parties had agreed upon the setup which will result in a saving to the county of approximately $300.

Smith also pointed out that under the staggered system, those voters who are not able to register at their nearest voting place on the day it is open can go to the next nearest place on the day it will be registering.

Any voter from any part of the county can register at any one of the places listed, he stated.

COLLECT NINE TONS OF PAPER

Nine and a quarter tons of waste paper, a half ton of the cans and a "small amount" of scrap iron and rags were gathered by the Gettysburg fire company Wednesday afternoon and evening in their monthly scrap collection. It was announced today by Vernon Corle, salvage chairman for the company.

Four trucks—two of them fire trucks, a truck from Gettysburg Autoparts and one from the Citizens' Oil company—were used in the collection which was started at about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and completed in six and a half hours.

The accumulation of salvage material will be sold by the firemen and the proceeds placed in a special fund now being used to buy war bonds. After the war new fire fighting apparatus for Gettysburg will be bought with the money, if present plans are carried out.

Hitlerites In Open Flight To Belgium

By JAMES M. LONG
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 31 (AP)—British tanks captured Amiens and established a bridgehead in strength across the Somme river today in a lightning 60-mile drive in 48 hours that found the Germans in full flight back to the Reich before four onrushing Allied armies.

The British raced with American columns which overran Laon and stabbed on north more than two miles to within 33 miles of Belgium with such bewildering speed that they overwhelmed three trainloads of German soldiers trying to escape.

The speed of the advance, virtually uncontested along a 150-mile arc at the Somme and approaching the Meuse river, indicated that the Germans had given up the last pretense of a rearguard stand and were in open flight through Belgium back to the imperiled homeland.

Ahead of Schedule
The Somme itself had been considered a natural barrier along which the enemy might try to fashion some sort of a stand, but the capture of the city of Amiens, which straddles the river, blasted this possibility.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared that now the Allied campaign to liberate northern France was at least five days ahead of schedule, and it appeared that the Germans were not trying to sidetrack it.

The Canadians were mopping up the big river port of Rouen, 25 miles inland from Dieppe, and the British were 25 miles inland from the German robot bomb coast.

There was no rest anywhere for the disorganized Germans, and Allied drives mushroomed over battlefields of the first World war, covering in an hour territory that it once took days and weeks to conquer.

Near Maginot Line
One force of Americans, heading east for the German frontier, seized St. Dizier, 16 miles southeast of fallen Vitry and pressed on to within 40 miles of the reversed Maginot line. The Saar border of Germany was 37 miles ahead of this force.

Forty-five miles ahead of the American drive was the gateway city of Sedan, where the Germans won the battle of France in 1940 by skirting the Maginot line. Verdun, 40 miles north of St. Dizier, along with Metz and Nancy were strong points of the French defense line.

There have been reports the Germans were able to reverse guns to point west, but many observers doubt that any real reversal has been attempted. This would take years, and the Germans have had a few scant weeks since it dawned upon them that Allied armies were loose and headed for their own borders.

Le Havre Doomed
British and Belgians crossed near the mouth of the Seine from 18 to 25 miles east of the doomed Atlantic port of Le Havre, and Canadians flushed the last snipers from historic Rouen, whose river docks make it an immense military prize.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American First Army, shifted eastward several days ago, drove two and one half miles northeast of captured Laon in a swift dash toward the Belgian frontier. At Laon his troops caught three trainloads of German soldiers about to pull out of the station and killed and captured them all.

The U.S. Third Army front to the southeast captured St. Dizier, 18 miles east of Vitry in the deepest bulge toward Germany.

From Paris to the sea, American, British and Canadian bridgeheads over the Seine were blended into a single attack which cut the inland road from Dieppe and slabbled 55 miles north of the Seine to Amiens on the Somme.

Take 15,000 Prisoners
(The Germans acknowledged Russian entry into Hungarian territory at two points and said Hungarian and German troops fought fiercely to plug gaps carved out by the Russians, reported to have won control of four practical passes into Transylvania.)

While the Red Army was knocking at the gates of Bucharest, a Romanian peace delegation in Moscow prepared for initial talks with the Russians.

The lightning advance by Gen. Malinovsky's army captured an additional 15,000 Germans Tuesday, including a corps commander, Gen. Heil; a divisional commander, Lt. Gen. Weitzner, and two colonels commanding divisions, the Soviet communique said.

German losses in the unsuccessful defense of Ploesti were declared "tremendous."

Fields Not Destroyed
Istresia reported from captured Ploesti that the abrupt Red Army drive had prevented destruction of the Ploesti oil fields but added that serious damage had been done.

RED CROSS HERE WINS CITATION FROM ADMIRAL
A special citation for its help with the fur vest project for merchant seamen was received this morning by the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Awarded by the War Emergency Board of the Fur Industry of New York city, the certificate for cooperation in recognition of the two bundles of furs sent by the local chapter during the past year to make warm vests for seamen. Miss Margaret McKillan, local Red Cross executive secretary, said.

The certificate reads as follows: "This is to certify that the American Red Cross, Adams County chapter, has given valuable assistance in the making of fur lined vests to be distributed to the merchant marines of the United States and the United Nations."

Plan New Shipment
It is signed by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, of the United States Maritime Commission; Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York; United States Senator James M. Mead; Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, and Vice Admiral R. R. Waesche, United States Coast Guard commandant.

Miss McKillan said another shipment of furs is planned for September 9, and she urged that any contributions having old furs of any kind to bring or send them to the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

She stated that fur muffs, coats, collars, coat linings and coat trim all could be used by the fur industry in the making of the jackets.

Nazi Thieves Became Victim Of Their Own Black Market

Paris, Aug. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—The Germans introduced the black market to Paris and then became victims of this Frankenstein financial monster.

"The black market was the only business in France making money," said Alec Jean Grelet, a floor waiter who has been opening hotel doors unexpectedly for 29 years and says nothing any longer surprises him.

"Everybody in France buys in the black market as much as he can afford," he related, "but since most workmen in factories receive only about 125 francs a day—that is about $2.50 in your money—you can see he had a hard time of it."

The "Marche Noir" or black market originated with the Germans because they were the only source of supply, Alec said, "but then later they too had to buy in the black market for many things if they stayed on."

Nazis Lived High

Alec has the cosmopolitan outlook enjoyed by most veteran waiters and his theory is that most of the Germans who occupied France benefited because the conquered French taught them how to live.

"Those Germans didn't know life until they came to Paris—nobody had taken the trouble to teach them how to live," he said. "And they never lived so well in Germany as they did in Paris."

"At the beginning," he continued, "they didn't like the French wine and kept demanding cognac and beer but before they left so hurriedly they had learned to enjoy wine. They no longer were gastronomic savages."

"Many of them had plenty of money because they had goods to sell in the black market. They played one Frenchman against another and you had to buy in the black market because everybody from workers to bankers did so, just as much as they could afford and there wasn't anything—not one thing—you couldn't buy if you only had the money."

$46 For Shoes

The penalty for black market dealers caught violating the Vichy restrictions was three months in jail and then they could go back rested and refreshed, and reopen.

"Of course anybody who had anything anybody else wanted was in the black market," Alec continued. "Goods have meant more than money here all through the war."

The French for the last four years had been allowed to buy two pairs of shoes annually with ration tickets and they cost about 400 francs or $8.00 a pair.

"On the black market," Alec said, "they cost 2,000 to 2,300 francs a pair—$40 to $46—without tickets."

Alec, who had two trim patches on his left shoulder of his worn but neat black waiter's jacket said a suit of clothes of ordinary good quality cost about $28 to $32 with tickets. But on the black market they cost $160.

Cigarette Shortage

"But the cigarette shortage troubled us almost as much as anything because for many of us it was our only luxury and you have to have some small luxury to live," he said.

Alec puffed on an American cigarette I gave him as if it was a delicious meal.

"We could only buy four packages of cigarettes a month with tickets—they cut us from six to four," Alec related. "The packages cost only 13 francs but lasted only a few days. Most of the cigarettes were sold on the black market and came from Belgium. They cost 140 francs a package. Have you another cigarette?"

That question is being put scores of times daily to every American soldier in Paris by the cigarette-hungry populace which seems to yearn more for an honest smoke than for a steak dinner.

DELIBERATING MANSLAUGHTER CASE IN COURT

The manslaughter charge against Maurice Q. Wagner, 25-year-old truck driver from near New Chester, was placed in the hands of a jury of eight men and four women for deliberation early this afternoon as the court took up the last trial of the August session. Sentence court is scheduled for Saturday.

Trial of the manslaughter case occupied all of Wednesday afternoon and this morning as more than a dozen witnesses were called to the stand by District Attorney J. Francis Yake and Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., counsel for the defense.

Testimony that conflicted in many details was presented by witnesses queried about the accident which cost the life of two and a half year old Leon James Menges, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Menges, Abbottstown. The child was struck as he attempted to cross the Lincoln highway in front of his home, east of the square in Abbottstown.

Absolved Driver
On the stand in his own defense this morning Wagner said that his truck, heavily loaded with pulpwood, was in danger of upsetting as he braked and swerved in a vain effort to avoid striking the child. He quoted a Commonwealth witness, Mrs. Leo Altland, aunt of the victim, as saying immediately after the accident: "You couldn't help it. The child ran right out in front of you."

Mrs. Altland was the only eye-witness of the accident among the more than a dozen persons who testified.

Pvt. George Ackerson of the state police, investigator and prosecutor in the case, said the truck traveled 256 feet after striking the child. He quoted the driver as naming 25 miles an hour as his speed and described braking and speed tests made with a truck at the scene immediately after the accident. He said that on a test Wagner was able to stop the truck within 80 feet of the point he applied the brakes. The officer differed with Wagner and two other defense witnesses about the point where the truck stopped in the brake test.

Arrested on Process
Both the Commonwealth and the defense displayed photos of the scene and the truck which was owned by George Millhimes of near New Chester. Character witnesses called for Wagner included Sheriff John E. Millhimes. Taking of testimony in the case was concluded about 11 o'clock this morning. Attorneys made their closing arguments to the jury before noon and only the court's charge remained for this afternoon's session.

The only case remaining for trial is that of Chauncey Laughman, Abbottstown, who is charged with two serious offenses by Pvt. Robert E. Dietrich of the state police. Laughman was called Wednesday but was not in court. A process was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody in Chambersburg about 1 o'clock this morning by Sheriff John E. Millhimes.

Harold J. Pegg Is Promoted To Major

Capt. Harold J. Pegg, formerly stationed at the New Cumberland reception center but now executive officer with a specialized training unit at the Holabird Signal Depot, Camp Holabird, Md., has been promoted to the rank of major. The promotion was effective August 7.

Major Pegg, who was moved from New Cumberland to Holabird on April 12, is the husband of Mrs. Laura Pegg, Hanover street. The couple has one daughter, Barbara Ellen, aged five years. Major Pegg had served at New Cumberland since his induction for active duty on March 5, 1942, as a second lieutenant. He is an alumnus of Gettysburg college in the class of 1925.

Youth Solos On His 16th Anniversary

Warren R. Van Dyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Van Dyke, Gettysburg R. 5, is the youngest student to solo at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics. Leon Witzelman, instructor at the local airport, said today.

Young Van Dyke, who is too young to take the pre-flight course at the high school, started flying instructions at the airport about two months ago. Wednesday evening, on his 16th birthday, he soloed for the first time after nine hours of instructions.

Germans Steal R. C. Supplies

With the Seventh Army near Lyon, France, Aug. 31 (AP)—Troops in this area found three railroad cars, labeled "not to be opened, International Red Cross property," broken into and rifled.

All around the area of a side track onto which the cars were shunted were torn cartons of food and medical supplies, which the French said were taken off when the Germans fled this sector several days ago.

POLIO SPREAD CURBED HERE; NO NEW CASES

No new infantile paralysis or meningitis cases have been reported in Adams county during the past week and local health authorities are hopeful that the spread of the dreaded diseases has been curbed through the precautions taken in the recent health ban.

The recent cool weather is also believed to have helped considerably in preventing further cases.

During the past 24 hours numerous rumors were in circulation throughout Gettysburg to the effect that a new case had developed here but this was definitely discounted by the young patient's physician.

Dr. C. H. Johnson told The Gettysburg Times this morning that Patricia Coalsmith, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coalsmith, Breckenridge street, definitely does not have meningitis or infantile paralysis.

The youngster had a sore knee but a careful check of her condition failed to reveal any dangerous symptoms. She is considerably improved today, her physician said.

Peak In September

Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—With 627 cases of infantile paralysis officially reported in Pennsylvania by the Department of Health, Deputy Secretary Dr. J. Moore Campbell said the present outbreak will probably exceed the 1941 total of 741 cases.

PARENTS GET WORD FROM SON IN NAZI CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coffman, Buford avenue, received a letter this morning from their son, Sgt. Charles B. Coffman, 20, a prisoner of the Germans since his B-24 was shot down over France April 22 while on a bombing mission in the Ruhr valley.

It was the first word the local couple has received from their son since his ship and crew were reported early in May as having been missing since the April mission excepting for a War department message on July 15 stating that the Gettysburg youth was known to be a prisoner of the Germans.

"Fit as a Fiddle"
The letter was written May 13 from Stalag Luft 6, a camp which the Coffmans say they have learned is in East Prussia.

The letter follows:

"I don't want you to worry too much about me for I am fit as a fiddle. I am a prisoner of war. We are treated just the same as soldiers. The reason I am here is that our ship was hit and we had to bail out. I was lucky and didn't even get a scratch. Mother, now all we have to do is pray for the end of the war."

Sergeant Coffman, who went overseas about March 1, was assistant crew chief and nose gunner in his bomber.

Nephew Receives Awards In London

Mrs. Genevieve Oyler, Biglerville R. 1, has received word her nephew, First Lt. F. M. Sommerkamp, a reconnaissance pilot, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Purple Heart and a group Presidential citation in London last week.

Lt. Sommerkamp received several citations in the arm some time ago while on a European mission.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reese, Fairfield, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital this morning.

A daughter was born at the hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glass, Emmitsburg.

GOP ENDORSES MRS. SHEFFER AS NEW CLERK

Mrs. Emma E. (Sachs) Sheffer, widow of Howard W. Sheffer, clerk of the courts of Adams county who died Saturday evening after suffering a fracture of the skull in a fall at his court house office, is being recommended by the Republican organization in Adams county for appointment to fill the vacancy caused by her husband's death.

The office will be filled by appointment by Governor Martin. The appointive term will end December 31, 1945, with a successor being named at the general election in November, 1945.

Mrs. Sheffer has the personal endorsement of County Chairman John H. Basehore and the unanimous approval of the members of the GOP executive and advisory committees in the county. Those groups, meeting with the county chairman Tuesday evening primarily for the purpose of making plans for registration of voters before the general election, endorsed Mrs. Sheffer.

Will Help "Off" Year
The action by the county GOP leaders apparently has stopped campaigns which were being launched in favor of several persons who sought the office. So far as could be learned today no independent effort is being made to gain the appointment although several persons consulted party leaders in search of support for their respective ambitions.

Political leaders pointed out that the shift of the clerk election to 1945 will bolster an "off-year" county election that usually finds the candidates for county treasurer "carrying the ball" alone—both as to campaigning effort and financial contributions. Now there will be two important county offices at stake on the "off" years.

The clerk and treasurer races may be overshadowed in 1945 by the fact that it is the year for the election of a president judge of the county courts.

Would Be First Woman

If Mrs. Sheffer is appointed, she will be the first woman ever to hold a major county office although there have been women deputies in most of the court house posts.

Mrs. Sheffer has been a deputy clerk since her late husband was taken ill about a month after taking office at the first of the year. She was in the office almost daily since her appointment.

MUST REPORT SALE OF CARS

The OPA today announced that all used car dealers will be requested to file at the Harrisburg OPA office a list of all used automobiles they have sold during the period July 10 to August 10, 1944, inclusive. Information to be listed includes make, model, year, body type, serial number, and selling price of each used car sold during the period specified. Lists should be filed on or before September 15.

In connection with used car sales, purchasers are advised that dealers are now required to place a ticket on each car offered for sale. The ticket must show the ceiling price, specify whether the car is offered at "warranted" or "as is" price, list any "extras" for which there is an allowable additional charge (radio, heater, or special built-in feature such as fluid drive, overdrive, hydromatic transmission, etc.) unexpired use tax, etc.

OPA Certification

To sell at "warranted" prices, the dealer who does not maintain in his own establishment, complete automotive repair facilities, must show the prospective purchaser, on request, his OPA certification to charge "warranted" prices. Such certification can be obtained by dealers who do not maintain repair facilities, by application to the OPA district office, which will approve applications of dealers who can show satisfactory evidence of having made contractual arrangements with bona-fide automotive repair establishments, to service all used cars sold by the dealer who wishes to obtain approval to charge "warranted" prices.

It is also pointed out to prospective purchasers that used cars may not be sold above ceiling prices, but may be sold at less than ceiling prices.

Road Resurfacing Starts In Cemetery

Work has begun on the resurfacing of all of the roads in the original section of the Evergreen cemetery and that part will be closed until approximately September 7. Philip R. Bickle, president of the cemetery association, announced today.

John S. Teeter and Sons, Gettysburg contractors, are doing the work which will consist of the laying of a new surface of stone, asphalt, stone chips and a finishing coat. Approximately 3,500 feet of the roadway will be covered.

Work in the new section of the cemetery will be limited at this time to patching, Mr. Bickle said. That part remains open to visitors.

4 REGISTRARS APPOINTED BY COMMISSIONERS

Four registrars for the special registration to be conducted throughout the county from September 15 to October 7 were appointed by the County Commissioners at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday at the court house.

Those appointed include two Republicans and two Democrats and one from each party will sit at the voting places on the days designated. The Democrats appointed were Mrs. Gertrude Sneringer, Conewago township, and Amos Sheely, Arendtsville. Republicans were Roger Keefe, Littlestown, and Madelyn Smith, Mount Joy.

All of the voting districts, with the exception of Gettysburg, will register from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of the days specified.

The new registrars will be at the following voting places on the dates listed:

East Berlin and Fairfield, September 15.

Conewago township and Biglerville, September 16.

Bonneauville and Idaville, September 18.

Two Taverns and Bendersville, September 19.

Abbottstown, September 20.

New Oxford and Arendtsville, September 21.

Cashtown and McSherrystown, September 22.

Littlestown and York Springs, September 23.

Register Here

In Gettysburg the commissioners office at the court house will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of September 30 and October 6 and 7, and voters also may register there any other day during regular business hours from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m.

In other years registration has been conducted in all of the townships at the voting places, but Clarence Smith, secretary to the County Commissioners, said today that the scattered and staggered registration system had been adopted as an economy measure from a standpoint of both money and manpower.

He said that the county chairmen of both parties had agreed upon the setup which will result in a saving to the county of approximately $300.

Smith also pointed out that under the staggered system, those voters who are not able to register at their nearest voting place on the day it is open can go to the next nearest place on the day it will be registering.

Any voter from any part of the county can register at any one of the places listed, he stated.

COLLECT NINE TONS OF PAPER

Nine and a quarter tons of waste paper, a half ton of tin cans and a "small amount" of scrap iron and rags were gathered by the Gettysburg fire company Wednesday afternoon and evening in their monthly scrap collection. It was announced today by Vernon Corie, salvage chairman for the company.

Four trucks—two of them fire trucks, a truck from Gettysburg Autoparts and one from the Citizens' Oil company—were used in the collection which was started at about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and completed in six and a half hours.

The accumulation of salvage material will be sold by the firemen and the proceeds placed in a special fund now being used to buy war bonds. After the war new fire fighting apparatus for Gettysburg will be bought with the money, if present plans are carried out.

Hitlerites In Open Flight To Belgium

By JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 31

(AP)—British tanks captured Amiens and established a bridgehead in strength across the Somme river today in a lightning 60-mile drive in 48 hours that found the Germans in full flight back to the Reich before four onrushing Allied armies.

The British raced with American columns which overran Laon and stabbed on north more than two miles to within 33 miles of Belgium with such bewildering speed that they overwhelmed three trainloads of German soldiers trying to escape.

The speed of the advance, virtually unopposed along a 150-mile arc at the Somme and approaching the Meuse river, indicated that the Germans had given up the last pretense of a rearguard stand and were in open flight through Belgium back to the imperiled homeland.

Ahead of Schedule

The Somme itself had been considered a natural barrier along which the enemy might try to fashion some sort of a stand, but the capture of the city of Amiens, which straddles the river, blasted this possibility.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared that now the Allied campaign to liberate northern France was at least five days ahead of schedule, and it appeared that the Germans were not trying to sidetrack it.

The Canadians were mopping up the big river port of Rouen, 25 miles inland from Dieppe, and the British were 25 miles inland from the German robot bomb coast.

There was no rest anywhere for the disorganized Germans, and Allied drives mushroomed over battlefields of the first World War, covering in an hour territory that it once took days and weeks to conquer.

Near Maginot Line

One force of Americans, heading east for the German frontier, seized St. Dizier, 18 miles southeast of fallen Vitry and pressed on to within 40 miles of the reversed Maginot line. The Saar border of Germany was 87 miles ahead of this force.

Forty-five miles ahead of the American drive was the gateway city of Sedan, where the Germans won the battle of France in 1940 by skirting the Maginot line. Verdun, 40 miles north of St. Dizier, along with Metz and Nancy were strong-points of the French defense line.

There have been reports the Germans were able to reverse guns to point west, but many observers doubt that any real reversal has been attempted. This would take years, and the Germans have had a few scant weeks since it dawned upon them that Allied armies were loose and headed for their own borders.

Le Havre Doomed

British and Belgians crossed near the mouth of the Seine from 18 to 25 miles east of the doomed Atlantic port of Le Havre, and Canadians flushed the last snipers from historic Rouen, whose river docks make it an immense military prize.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American First Army, shifted eastward several days ago, drove two and one half miles northeast of captured Laon in a swift dash toward the Belgian frontier. At Laon his troops caught three trainloads of German soldiers about to pull out of the station and killed and captured them all.

The U.S. Third Army front to the southeast captured St. Dizier, 18 miles east of Vitry in the deepest bulge toward Germany.

From Paris to the sea, American, British and Canadian bridgeheads over the Seine were blended into a single attack which cut the inland road from Dieppe and stabbed 45 miles north of the Seine to Amiens on the Somme.

Believe Russians Are In Bucharest

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Red

Army was believed today to have entered Bucharest, capital of Romania, after capturing the great Ploesti oil fields and preempting perhaps a third of the German petroleum supply.

At midnight, the Russians were 17 miles from the city of 648,000 after an advance of nearly 40 miles in a day through the capitulated Balkan kingdom.

An official announcement was not made but Muscovites kept their radios tuned for an order of the day. "With the fall of Ploesti, the way to Bucharest is open," Red Star said.

Fields Not Destroyed

Investia reported from captured Ploesti that the abrupt Red Army drive had prevented destruction of the Ploesti oil fields but added that serious damage had been done.

RED CROSS HERE WINS CITATION FROM ADMIRAL

A special citation for its help with the fur vest project for merchant seamen was received this morning by the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Awarded by the War Emergency Board of the Fur Industry of New York city, the certificate for cooperation is in recognition of the two bundles of furs sent by the local chapter during the past year to make warm vests for seamen, Miss Margaret McMillan, local Red Cross executive secretary, said.

The certificate reads as follows: "This is to certify that the American Red Cross, Adams County chapter, has given valuable assistance in the making of fur lined vests to be distributed to the merchant marine of the United States and the United Nations."

Plan New Shipment

It is signed by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, of the United States Maritime Commission; Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York; United States Senator James M. Mead; Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, and Vice Admiral R. R. Waesche, United States Coast Guard commandant.

Miss McMillan said another shipment of furs is planned for September 9, and she urged that any countians having old furs of any kind to bring or send them to the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

She stated that fur muffs, coats, collars, coat linings and coat trim all could be used by the fur industry in the making of the jackets.

Take 15,000 Prisoners

(The Germans acknowledged Russian entry into Hungarian territory at two points and said Hungarian and German troops fought fiercely to plug gaps carved out by the Russians, reported to have won control of four practical passes into Transylvania.)

While the Red Army was knocking at the gates of Bucharest, a Romanian peace delegation in Moscow prepared for initial talks with the Russians.

The lightning advance by Gen. Malinovsky's army captured an additional 15,000 Germans Tuesday, including a corps commander, Gen. Heil; a divisional commander, Lt. Gen. Weitzner, and two colonels commanding divisions, the Soviet communiqué said.

German losses in the unsuccessful defense of Ploesti were declared "tremendous."

Take 50,000 In Southern France

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Aug. 31 (AP)—Remnants of the German 19th Army raced desperately north toward Lyon today, fighting costly rearguard actions with the pursuing Americans only when necessary, while other seventh Army units moved through the French Riviera metropolis of Nice toward the Italian frontier, some 12 miles ahead.

Nice, with a population of 200,000 and the largest of the Riviera's famed playgrounds, was taken without any opposition. Damage was confined chiefly to the harbor area, Allied headquarters said.

The total of prisoners captured by the Seventh Army since it swarmed ashore on the beaches of southern France passed the 50,000 mark, with additional thousands rounded up from Nazi units intercepted and cut to pieces in the Rhone valley pockets south of the junction of the Rhone and Drome rivers.

Enemy Losses Heavy

Equally impressive were the material losses of the enemy.

In a pocket of slightly more than 11 miles south of Livron "losses inflicted by our ground forces included 2,000 motor vehicles, 1,000 horses, 27 five millimeter antitank guns, 12 seventy-seven millimeter guns, three batteries of field artillery pieces, six railroad guns, 40 twenty millimeter antiaircraft weapons, eight self-propelled guns and a trail with a printing press," Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's headquarters said.

Additional hundreds of vehicles and guns knocked out by Allied planes littered the roads throughout the valley and 200 enemy dead were found in the same area.

Yesterday morning the Germans locked in sharp battle with an American column in the vicinity of Livron on the north banks of the Drome river, 11 miles south of Valence. In the afternoon the enemy broke off contact and fled north when the avenue of escape was threatened by another Allied column that punched into Chabeuil, six miles southeast of Valence.

Reach Lyon Area

"By accepting heavy losses of the last several days a substantial portion of the enemy personnel has succeeded in reaching the Lyon area," an official headquarters statement conceded.

Farther north in the Alps of the Franco-Italian frontier south of Switzerland "enemy forces have been showing signs of nervousness and have been moving out of frontier passes, particularly the Larche and Mt. Genevre passes, to try to contact our forward elements," said an official report.

Nazi Thieves Became Victim Of Their Own Black Market

Paris, Aug. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—The Germans introduced the black market to Paris and then became victims of this Frankenstein financial monster.

"The black market was the only business in France making money," said Alec Jean Greciet, a floor waiter who has been opening hotel doors unexpectedly for 29 years and says nothing any longer surprises him.

"Everybody in France buys in the black market as much as he can afford," he related, "but since most workmen in factories receive only about 125 francs a day—that is about $2.50 in your money—you can see he had a hard time of it."

The "Marche Noir" or black market originated with the Germans because they were the only source of supply, Alec said, "but then later they too had to buy in the black market for many things if they stayed on."

Nazis Lived High
Alec has the cosmopolitan outlook enjoyed by most veteran waiters and his theory is that most of the Germans who occupied France benefited because the conquered French taught them how to live.

"Those Germans didn't know life until they came to Paris—nobody had taken the trouble to teach them how to live," he said. "And they never lived so well in Germany as they did in Paris."

"At the beginning," he continued, "they didn't like the French wine and kept demanding cognac and beer but before they left so hurriedly they had learned to enjoy wine. They no longer were gastronomic savages."

"Many of them had plenty of money because they had goods to sell in the black market. They played one Frenchman against another and you had to buy in the black market because everybody from workers to bankers did so, just as much as they could afford and there wasn't anything—not one thing—you couldn't buy if you only had the money."

$46 For Shoes
The only penalty for black market dealers caught violating the Vichy restrictions was three months in jail and then they could go back rested and refreshed, and reopen.

"Of course anybody who had anything anybody else wanted was in the black market," Alec continued. "Goods have meant more than money here all through the war."

The French for the last four years had been allowed to buy two pairs of shoes annually with ration tickets and they cost about 400 francs or $8.00 a pair.

"On the black market," Alec said, "they cost 2,000 to 2,300 francs a pair—$40 to $46—without tickets."

Alec, who had two trim patches on his left shoulder of his worn but neat black waiter's jacket said a suit of clothes of ordinary good quality cost about $28 to $32 with tickets. But on the black market they cost $160.

Cigarette Shortage
"But the cigarette shortage troubled us almost as much as anything because for many of us it was our only luxury and you have to have some small luxury to live," he said.

Alec puffed on an American cigarette I gave him as if it was a delicious meal.

"We could only buy four packages of cigarettes a month with tickets—they cut us from six to four," Alec related. "The packages cost only 13 francs but lasted only a few days. Most of the cigarettes were sold on the black market and came from Belgium. They cost 140 francs a package. Have you another cigarette?"

That question is being put scores of times daily to every American soldier in Paris by the cigarette-hungry populace which seems to yearn more for an honest smoke than for a steak dinner.

County Soldier Is Wounded In France

Mrs. Dorothy S. Bream, of Five points, York Springs R. 2, received a War department telegram Wednesday night informing her that her husband, Pfc. Clyde F. Bream, 24, had been slightly wounded in France August 9.

Mrs. Bream received a letter from her husband last week in which he stated he had been wounded and had been removed to a hospital in England and was "getting along nicely."

Private Bream is a member of a mechanized cavalry unit. He was inducted into the Army in July, 1942, and has been overseas since March of this year.

He formerly lived in Fairfield and was employed before his induction at the Harrisburg steel company. Mrs. Bream, who is employed at the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, also has a brother, Pvt. Donald Stevens, in the Army.

PAYS FINE

Samuel B. Long, Jr., Drummer R. 1, Lancaster county, paid a $10 fine and costs after appearing before Justice of the Peace John W. Baschore on a charge of driving too fast for conditions on York street. Borough Officer Clark W. Staley filed the information.

Weather Forecast

Not so cool tonight; Friday mostly cloudy and cool.

DELIBERATING MANSLAUGHTER CASE IN COURT

The manslaughter charge against Maurice G. Wagner, 23-year-old truck driver from near New Chester, was placed in the hands of a jury of eight men and four women for deliberation early this afternoon as the court took up the last trial of the August session. Sentence court is scheduled for Saturday.

Trial of the manslaughter case occupied all of Wednesday afternoon and this morning as more than a dozen witnesses were called to the stand by District Attorney J. Francis Yake and Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., counsel for the defense.

The child was struck as he attempted to cross the Lincoln highway in front of his home, east of the square in Abbottstown.

Absolved Driver
On the stand in his own defense this morning Wagner said that his truck, heavily loaded with pulpwood, was in danger of upsetting as he braked and swerved in a vain effort to avoid striking the child. He quoted a Commonwealth witness, Mrs. Leo Altland, aunt of the victim, as saying immediately after the accident: "You couldn't help it. The child ran right out in front of you."

Mrs. Altland was the only eye-witness of the accident among the more than a dozen persons who testified. Pvt. He quoted the driver as naming 25 miles an hour as his speed and described braking and speed tests made with a truck at the scene immediately after the accident. He said that on a test Wagner was able to stop the truck within 80 feet of the point he applied the brakes. The officer differed with Wagner and two other defense witnesses about the point where the truck stopped in the brake test.

Arrested on Process
Both the Commonwealth and the defense displayed photos of the scene and the truck which was owned by George Millhimes of near New Chester. Character witnesses called for Wagner included Sheriff John E. Millhimes. Taking of testimony in the case was concluded about 11 o'clock this morning. Attorneys made their closing arguments to the jury before noon and only the court's charge remained for this afternoon's session.

The only case remaining for trial is that of Chauncey Laughman, Abbottstown, who is charged with two serious offenses by Pvt. Robert E. Dietrich of the state police. Laughman was called Wednesday but was not in court. A process was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody in Chambersburg about 1 o'clock this morning by Sheriff John E. Millhimes.

GOP ENDORSES MRS. SHEFFER AS NEW CLERK

Mrs. Emma E. (Sachs) Sheffer, widow of Howard W. Sheffer, clerk of the courts of Adams county who died Saturday evening after suffering a fracture of the skull in a fall at his court house office, is being recommended by the Republican organization in Adams county for appointment to fill the vacancy caused by her husband's death.

The office will be filled by appointment by Governor Martin. The appointive term will end December 31, 1945, with a successor being named at the general election in November, 1945.

Mrs. Sheffer has the personal endorsement of County Chairman John H. Baschore and the unanimous approval of the members of the GOP executive and advisory committees in the county. Those groups, meeting with the county chairman Tuesday evening primarily for the purpose of making plans for registration of voters before the general election, endorsed Mrs. Sheffer.

Will Help "Off" Year

The action by the county GOP leaders apparently has stopped campaigns which were being launched in favor of several persons who sought the office. So far as could be learned today no independent effort is being made to gain the appointment although several persons consulted party leaders in search of support for their respective ambitions.

Political leaders pointed out that the shift of the clerk election to 1945 will bolster an "off-year" county election that usually finds the candidates for county treasurer "carrying the ball" alone—both as to campaigning effort and financial contributions. Now there will be two important county offices at stake on the "off" years.

The clerk and treasurer races may be overshadowed in 1945 by the fact that it is the year for the election of a president judge of the county courts.

Would Be First Woman
If Mrs. Sheffer is appointed, she will be the first woman ever to hold a major county office although there have been women deputies in most of the court house positions.

Mrs. Sheffer has been a deputy clerk since her late husband was taken ill about a month after taking office at the first of the year. She was in the office almost daily since her appointment.

MUST REPORT SALE OF CARS

The OPA today announced that all used car dealers will be requested to file at the Harrisburg OPA office a list of all used automobiles they have sold during the period July 10 to August 10, 1944, inclusive. Information to be listed includes make, model, year, body type, serial number, and selling price of each used car sold during the period specified. Lists should be filed on or before September 15.

In connection with used car sales, purchasers are advised that dealers are now required to place a ticket on each car offered for sale. The ticket must show the ceiling price, specify whether the car is offered at "warranted" or "as is" price, list any "extras" for which there is an allowable additional charge (radio, heater, or special built-in feature such as fluid drive, overdrive, hydromatic transmission, etc.) unexpired use tax, etc.

OPA Certification
To sell at "warranted" prices, the dealer who does not maintain in his own establishment, complete automotive repair facilities, must show the prospective purchaser, on request, his OPA certification to charge "warranted" prices. Such certification can be obtained by dealers who do not maintain repair facilities, by application to the OPA district office, which will approve applications of dealers who can show satisfactory evidence of having made contractual arrangements with bona-fide automotive repair establishments, to service all used cars sold by the dealer who wishes to obtain approval to charge "warranted" prices.

It is also pointed out to prospective purchasers that used cars may not be sold above ceiling prices, but may be sold at less than ceiling prices.

A daughter was born at the hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glass, Emmitsburg.

Road Resurfacing Starts In Cemetery

Work has begun on the resurfacing of all of the roads in the original section of the Evergreen cemetery and that part will be closed until approximately September 7, Philip R. Bikle, president of the cemetery association, announced today.

John S. Teeter and Sons, Gettysburg contractors, are doing the work which will consist of the laying of a new surface of stone, asphalt, stone chips and a finishing coat. Approximately 3,500 feet of the roadway will be covered.

Work in the new section of the cemetery will be limited at this time to patching, Mr. Bikle said. That part remains open to visitors.

4 REGISTRARS APPOINTED BY COMMISSIONERS

Four registrars for the special registration to be conducted throughout the county from September 15 to October 7 were appointed by the County Commissioners at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday at the court house.

Those appointed include two Republicans and two Democrats and one from each party will sit at the voting places on the days designated.

The Democrats appointed were Mrs. Gertrude Sneeringer, Conewago township, and Amos Sheely, Arendtsville. Republicans were Roger Keefe, Littlestown, and Madelyn Smith, Mount Joy.

All of the voting districts, with the exception of Gettysburg, will register from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of the days specified.

The new registrars will be at the following voting places on the dates listed:

East Berlin and Fairfield, September 15.

Conewago township and Biglerville, September 16.

Bonneauville and Idaville, September 18.

Two Taverns and Bendersville, September 19.

Abbottstown, September 20.

New Oxford and Arendtsville, September 21.

Cashtown and McSherrystown, September 22.

Littlestown and York Springs, September 23.

Register Here

In Gettysburg the commissioners office at the court house will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening of September 30 and October 6 and 7, and voters also may register there any other day during regular business hours from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m.

In other years registration has been conducted in all of the townships at the voting places, but Clarence Smith, secretary to the County Commissioners, said today that the scattered and staggered registration system had been adopted as an economy measure from a standpoint both of money and manpower.

He said that the county chairmen of both parties had agreed upon the setup which will result in a saving to the county of approximately $800.

Smith also pointed out that under the staggered system, those voters who are not able to register at their nearest voting place on the day it is open can go to the next nearest place on the day it will be registering.

Any voter from any part of the county can register at any one of the places listed, he stated.

COLLECT NINE TONS OF PAPER

Nine and a quarter tons of waste paper, a half ton of tin cans and a "small amount" of scrap iron and rags were gathered by the Gettysburg fire company Wednesday afternoon and evening in their monthly scrap collection. It was announced today by Vernon Corie, salvage chairman for the company.

Four trucks—two of them fire trucks, a truck from Gettysburg Autoparts and one from the Citizens' Oil company—were used in the collection which was started at about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and completed in six and a half hours.

The accumulation of salvage material will be sold by the firemen and the proceeds placed in a special fund now being used to buy war bonds. After the war new fire fighting apparatus for Gettysburg will be bought with the money, if present plans are carried out.

Hitlerites In Open Flight To Belgium

By JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 31 (AP)—British tanks captured Amiens and established a bridgehead in strength across the Somme river today in a lightning 60-mile drive in 48 hours that found the Germans in full flight back to the Reich before four onrushing Allied armies.

The British raced with American columns which overran Laon and stabbed on north more than two miles to within 33 miles of Belgium with such bewildering speed that they overwhelmed three trainloads of German soldiers trying to escape.

The speed of the advance, virtually uncontested along a 150-mile arc at the Somme and approaching the Meuse river, indicated that the Germans had given up the last pretense of a rearguard stand and were in open flight through Belgium back to the imperiled homeland.

Ahead of Schedule

The Somme itself had been considered a natural barrier along which the enemy might try to fashion some sort of a stand, but the capture of the city of Amiens, which straddles the river, blasted this possibility.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared that now the Allied campaign to liberate northern France was at least five days ahead of schedule, and it appeared that the Germans were not trying to sidetrack it.

Le Havre Doomed

British and Belgians crossed near the mouth of the Seine from 18 to 25 miles east of the doomed Atlantic port of Le Havre, and Canadians flushed the last snipers from historic Rouen, whose river docks make it an immense military prize.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American First Army, shifted eastward several days ago, drove two and one half miles northeast of captured Laon in a swift dash toward the Belgian frontier. At Laon his troops caught three trainloads of German soldiers about to pull out of the station and killed and captured them all.

The U.S. Third Army front to the southeast captured St. Dizier, 18 miles east of Vitry in the deepest bulge toward Germany.

From Paris to the sea

British and Canadians bridgeheads over the Seine were blended into a single attack which cut the inland road from Dieppe and stabbed 45 miles north of the Seine to Amiens on the Somme.

While the Red Army was knocking at the gates of Bucharest, a Romanian peace delegation in Moscow prepared for initial talks with the Russians.

The lightning advance by Gen. Malinovsky's army captured an additional 15,000 Germans Tuesday, including a corps commander, Gen. Hell; a divisional commander, Lt. Gen. Weitzner, and two colonels commanding divisions, the Soviet communique said.

German losses in the unsuccessful defense of Ploesti were declared "tremendous."

RED CROSS HERE WINS CITATION FROM ADMIRAL

A special citation for its help with the fur vest project for merchant seamen was received this morning by the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Awarded by the War Emergency Board of the Pur Industry of New York city, the certificate for cooperation is in recognition of the two bundles of furs sent by the local chapter during the past year to make warm vests for seamen, Miss Margaret McMillan, local Red Cross executive secretary, said.

The certificate reads as follows: "This is to certify that the American Red Cross, Adams County chapter, has given valuable assistance in the making of fur lined vests to be distributed to the merchant marine of the United States and the United Nations."

Plan New Shipment

It is signed by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, of the United States Maritime Commission; Fiorenzo H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York; United States Senator James M. Mead; Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, and Vice Admiral R. R. Waesche, United States Coast Guard commandant.

Miss McMillan said another shipment of furs is planned for September 9, and she urged that any countenances having old furs of any kind to bring or send them to the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

She stated that fur muffs, coats, collars, coat linings and coat trim all could be used by the fur industry in the making of the jackets.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared that now the Allied campaign to liberate northern France was at least five days ahead of schedule, and it appeared that the Germans were not trying to sidetrack it.

The Canadians were mopping up the big river port of Rouen, 25 miles inland from Dieppe, and the British were 25 miles inland from the German robot bomb coast.

There was no rest anywhere for the disorganized Germans, and Allied drives mushroomed over battlefields of the first World war, covering in an hour territory that it once took days and weeks to conquer.

Near Maginot Line

One force of Americans, heading east for the German frontier, seized St. Dizier, 18 miles southeast of fallen Vitry and pressed on to within 40 miles of the reversed Maginot line. The Saar border of Germany was 87 miles ahead of this force.

Forty-five miles ahead of the American drive was the gateway city of Sedan, where the Germans won the battle of France in 1940 by skirting the Maginot line. Verdun, 40 miles north of St. Dizier, along with Metz and Nancy were strong-points of the French defense line.

There have been reports the Ger-

Romanian oil workers helped the Russians put out tremendous fires and civilians directed Soviet troops to a large group of Germans dressed as civilians, applying the torch right and left.

The dispatch added that a plane over the fields, greatest in Europe except for those in Russia itself, disclosed that the Germans did everything possible to destroy wells, pipelines, derricks and equipment.

Fast, mobile Soviet squads making up the advance guard were strengthened by infantry and tanks that swept the rich Ploesti oil fields into the bulging bag of Russian victories, then turned south toward the Romanian capital.

A Russian war bulletin said Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army captured more than 200 towns yesterday around Ploesti and northeast of Bucharest, including Meriuta, only 17 miles away.

Fields Not Destroyed

Izvestia reported from captured Ploesti that the abrupt Red Army drive had prevented destruction of the Ploesti oil fields but added that serious damage had been done.

An official announcement was not made but Muscovites kept their radios tuned for an order of the day.

"With the fall of Ploesti, the way to Bucharest is open," Red Star said.

Take 50,000 In Southern France

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Aug. 31 (AP)—Remnants of the German 19th Army raced desperately north toward Lyon today, fighting costly rearguard actions with the pursuing Americans only when necessary, while other seventh Army units moved through the French Riviera metropolises of Nice toward the Italian frontier, some 12 miles ahead.

Nice, with a population of 200,000 and the largest of the Riviera's famed playgrounds, was taken without any opposition. Damage was confined chiefly to the harbor area, Allied headquarters said.

The total of prisoners captured by the Seventh Army since it swarmed ashore on the beaches of southern France passed the 50,000 mark, with additional thousands rounded up from Nazi units intercepted and cut to pieces in the Rhone valley pockets south of the junction of the Rhone and Drome rivers.

Enemy Losses Heavy

Equally impressive were the material losses of the enemy.

In a pocket of slightly more than 11 miles south of Livron "losses inflicted by our ground forces included 2,000 motor vehicles, 1,000 horses, 27 five millimeter antitank guns, 12 seventy-seven millimeter guns, three batteries of field artillery pieces, six railroad guns, 40 twenty millimeter antiaircraft weapons, eight self-propelled guns and a trailer with a printing press," Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's headquarters said.

Additional hundreds of vehicles and guns knocked out by Allied planes littered the roads through-mans were able to reverse guns to point west, but many observers doubt that any real reversal has been attempted. This would take years, and the Germans have had a few scant weeks since it dawned upon them that Allied armies were loose and headed for their own borders.

British and Belgians crossed near the mouth of the Seine from 18 to 25 miles east of the doomed Atlantic port of Le Havre, and Canadians flushed the last snipers from historic Rouen, whose river docks make it an immense military prize.

UNDERGROUND BELGIANS ARE PREPARED TO OPEN REVOLT

By ALEX SINGLETON

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Belgium braced herself today for the ordeal of again becoming a battlefield and the country's tightly knit underground now concentrating on sabotage, awaited orders from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for a general uprising as American troops neared the Belgian border.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Hubert Pierlot's exiled government in London said that Nazi attempts to exploit British-American bombing as a propaganda weapon to alienate his countrymen against the Allies had failed and that 95 percent of Belgians are supporting the Allied cause.

The Belgian underground fighters are perhaps even better organized than those in France because of Belgium's thickly populated areas. They have stolen arms and vehicles from the Germans and have become a guerrilla outfit.

Start Destruction

The extent of the activity was demonstrated by an underground report that two nights of sabotage recently resulted in the destruction of two railroad depots, 23 locomotives and scores of cars.

The size of the resistance movement is uncertain, but its potential strength obviously has been reduced by Hitler's action in deporting approximately a half-million workers—almost the size of the Belgian Army before the Nazi invasion—to Germany.

On top of this, government sources say another 100,000 Belgians are imprisoned or are in concentration camps, while 75,000 are held as prisoners of war and approximately 7,500 have been hanged or shot.

Most of these were from the age brackets which would make the best resistance fighters. But despite this, the patriot force has developed during four years of occupation to a point where collaborators and their German masters have been driven to stringent measures similar to those taken in France.

The Germans have labelled the Belgian guerrillas as outlaws, saying they will be treated as "treacherous murderers."

Huge Spy Group

Meanwhile, Leon Degrelle, one of the country's chief collaborators and founder of the Rexist party, has organized the Rexistists along the lines of Joseph Darnand's Vichy Militia into a big spy organization, one group of which wears the Nazi uniform and guards German installations.

Sabotage has mounted steadily since D-Day, probably aided by specially trained Allied troops—including Belgians—parachuted into the country to coordinate work with the liberating army.

Meanwhile, the Belgian force under Gen. Chevalier van Strydomack de Burzee, which was trained and equipped in Britain, is advancing with the Allied armies in France or it probably is being used in the drive toward Belgium because of its knowledge of the terrain.

The size of the army cannot be disclosed because of military reasons, but it gradually has been built up from men who escaped the country since 1940, when Belgium capitulated after desperate attempts to bar the German advance.

10 JAP SHIPS SUNK BY YANKS IN WIDE AREA

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 31 (AP)—Allied airmen stalking Japanese ships from the Kuriles northeast of Nippon to the Dutch East Indies have knocked out 23 more vessels, 10 of them sunk.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué today listed nine enemy craft destroyed, small freighters, coastal vessels and barges—the types which he has said were the sole supply carriers for many Japanese East Indies garrisons.

These and the 10 or more ships damaged, including a 7000-ton freighter-transport, were found by bombers which ranged from Mindanao island in the southern Philippines, southward to Celebes, Ceram and Kai islands, all now within easy range of Allied aircraft operating from newly won bases in northwestern New Guinea.

Halmahera Drubbed
Halmahera, south of Mindanao, was given a 113-ton bomb drubbing Tuesday by heavy and medium bombers. The attackers met no interception as they concentrated on coastal defenses, supply and barracks areas on Wasile and Kaeobays. Five days ago Allied planes hit this stepping-stone to the Philippines with 156 tons of explosives.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in a Pearl Harbor press release said an enemy patrol vessel was destroyed and another one, along with a tanker and a cargo ship, damaged when Army and Navy planes Sunday attacked Paramushiro and vicinity, in the Kuriles. Another Japanese patrol ship also was attacked, but the results were not announced.

MacArthur said the planes which struck Ceram sank or severely damaged nine enemy coastal vessels and dived-bombed oil installations, gun positions and bivouacs at Becla on the east coast.

Nimitz said that army Liberators also hit an airfield on Iwo Jima in the volcanic islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo; Pagan island in the Marianas, airfields on Moen island in Truk atoll, where Japanese fighters damaged one Liberator, and Ponape island in the eastern Carolines.

Other Assaults
Navy planes meanwhile attacked Nauru island, the phosphate center southeast of the Carolines, and continued neutralization raids against remaining Japanese-held islands in the Marshalls.

The Rev. and Mrs. Nevin R. Franz are spending their vacation at their home here. Due to the Polio epidemic their plans for a vacation were cancelled.

Pvt. John Miller, who spent a three-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Miller, has reported to a camp in North Carolina.

Claire Hertung, of Sunbury, recently spent a few days here making preparation for the sale of the personal effects of his mother, Mrs. John Hertung, who is now making her home with her son in Sunbury.

Mrs. Esther Stubbs entertained the Carnation Guild at her home in Quaker Valley this afternoon.

RUSS GILBERT ELECTED COACH

Russell Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Chambersburg street, was selected Wednesday to coach the Litz high school football team during the coming season.

Gilbert, who graduated from Gettysburg high school, and from Gettysburg college in 1933, was assistant football and basketball coach at Gettysburg high school for eight and one-half years. He resigned November 13, 1942, to accept a position in glass research work with the Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster.

The former Maroon coach will continue in his present employment, drilling his charges in off hours during the afternoons and evenings.

If Litz high school authorities are successful in securing a faculty member to teach physical education the new member will be named assistant coach to Gilbert.

Coach Gilbert starred in football, basketball and baseball at Gettysburg high school and in football while a college student.

CHICAGO BEARS BEAT ALL STARS

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—No matter how thin their ranks, the Chicago Bears still can snort the College All-Stars how to win football games. They did it again—for the fourth straight time—by snatching a 24-21 triumph on a last period 24-0 goal before 50,600 rain-crenched fans at Northwestern university's Dyche stadium last night.

The All-Stars performed as advertised, but although they beat the war-depleted Bears to the scoring punch for three periods, the professional champions had what it took all the way. The issue was settled when Guard Pete Gudauskas, Bear "sophomore" from Murray (Ky.) State Teachers college, booted a field goal from the 13-yard line midway in the final quarter to break the 21-21 deadlock for a 3-point victory.

It also was obvious superiority in team-play and a better balanced attack—the Bears doubled the ground yardage of the pass-minded All-Stars—that paid off for the pros, who responded as of yore to the quarterbacking of Ensign Sid Luckman of the Merchant Marine. The Bears outgained the collegians, 143 to 77 yards on the ground, while the All-Stars made 146 yards to the pros' 128 through the air.

RATIONED MEAT POINTS REMAIN 4 MORE WEEKS

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Point values of rationed meats will remain unchanged in the four-week period beginning Sunday (September 3) and ending September 30, but some varieties of cheese and canned milk will cost more points.

The point value of Group 3 cheeses, such as Swiss, Italian, Munster, Limburger, Camembert, Liederkranz, "grated," dehydrated, Brick, Gouda, Greek, Edam, Bleu and Erie is increased from 8 to 10 points a pound.

Canned milk, both condensed and evaporated, will cost one point a pound, instead of two-thirds of a point. Heretofore, a single can of milk has taken one point, but three cans cost only two points.

16 Points For Butter
In announcing September red point values, the Office of Price Administration said consumers had been buying Group 3 cheeses in excess of allocation for civilian use, and that sales of canned milk also were running ahead of War Food Administration allocations.

Creamery butter will continue to cost 16 points a pound, although September charts show a value of 20 points. A "16" will be pasted over this.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Recipe for a Perfect Marriage

Dee and Jane Cypers celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Saturday. Having so many friends, it seemed like half the town stopped in that evening to pay their respects.

Little Ida Moffat brought a home-made poem to read, called Love Enduring. Bert Childers recited "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Will Dudley made a speech and proposed a toast.

And as I watched that toast—Dee with his glass of beer, Jane with her buttermilk—I thought to myself: There's a recipe for happy marriage. Two folks with different tastes—no doubt an honest fault or two—who through the years have learned to live in tolerance and understanding.

From where I sit, Dee and Jane are a mighty good example to young married people of today—an example of how moderation, tolerance and understanding can build lasting happiness and solid homes.

UNDERGROUND BELGIANS ARE PREPARED TO OPEN REVOLT

By ALEX SINGLETON

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Belgium braced herself today for the ordeal of again becoming a battlefield and the country's tightly knit underground now concentrating on sabotage, awaited orders from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for a general uprising as American troops entered the Belgian border.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Hubert Pierlot's exiled government in London said that Nazi attempts to exploit British-American bombing as a propaganda weapon to alienate his countrymen against the Allies had failed and that 95 percent of Belgians are supporting the Allied cause.

The Belgian underground fighters are perhaps even better organized than those in France because of Belgium's thickly populated areas. They have stolen arms and vehicles from the Germans and have become a guerrilla outfit.

Start Destruction

The extent of the activity was demonstrated by an underground report that two nights of sabotage recently resulted in the destruction of two railroad depots, 23 locomotives and scores of cars.

The size of the resistance movement is uncertain, but its potential strength obviously has been reduced by Hitler's action in deporting approximately a half-million workers—almost the size of the Belgian Army before the Nazi invasion—to Germany.

On top of this, government sources say another 100,000 Belgians are imprisoned or are in concentration camps, while 75,000 are held as prisoners of war and approximately 7,500 have been hanged or shot.

Most of these were from the age brackets which would make the best resistance fighters. But despite this, the patriot force has developed during four years of occupation to a point where collaborators and their German masters have been driven to stringent measures similar to those taken in France.

The Germans have labelled the Belgian guerrillas as outlaws, saying they will be treated as "treacherous murderers."

Huge Spy Group

Meanwhile, Leon Degrelle, one of the country's chief collaborators and founder of the Rexist party, has organized the Rexistists along the lines of Joseph Darnand's Vichy Militia into a big spy organization, one group of which wears the Nazi uniform and guards German installations.

Sabotage has mounted steadily since D-Day, probably aided by specially trained Allied troops—including Belgians—parachuted into the country to coordinate work with the liberating army.

Meanwhile, the Belgian force under Gen. Chevalier van Strijdonck de Burkee, which was trained and equipped in Britain, is advancing with the Allied armies in France or it probably is being used in the drive toward Belgium because of its knowledge of the terrain.

The size of the army cannot be disclosed because of military reasons, but it gradually has been built up from men who escaped the country since 1940, when Belgium capitulated after desperate attempt to bar the German advance.

the county's history. The other deputy, now in charge of the office since Mr. Sheffer's death, is Mrs. Martha Boyd McClellan, who served under Roy D. Renner, whom Mr. Sheffer succeeded in office.

Mrs. Sheffer is well known in this section in American Legion circles. She formerly served for two years as president of the Auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz post and also is a former president of the four-county Council of the Legion Auxiliary, covering units in York, Adams, Franklin and Fulton counties.

She is an active member of St. James Lutheran church and Sunday school.

Corp. Reinecker Now In California

Marine Corporal George H. Reinecker, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Z. Reinecker, Aspers R. D., who was wounded during the first week of fighting on Saipan, is now in a naval hospital in Oakland, California, according to a letter received by his parents.

Cpl. Reinecker, whose wife lives in Camp Hill, was employed by an eye specialist in Harrisburg before going into the service about two and one-half years ago. He went to the South Pacific last February. In June, he was struck in the right leg by shrapnel which broke his leg above the knee. For a time he was in a hospital in Hawaii. His most recent letter states that he expects to be a patient in the California hospital for four or five months.

Cpl. Reinecker has a brother, Pfc. Walter Reinecker, who is now serving in France.

10 JAP SHIPS SUNK BY YANKS IN WIDE AREA

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 31 (AP)—Allied airmen stalking Japanese ships from the Kuriles northeast of Nippon to the Dutch East Indies have knocked out 23 more vessels, 10 of them sunk.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today listed nine enemy craft destroyed, small freighters, coastal vessels and barges—the types which he has said were the sole supply carriers for many Japanese East Indies garrisons.

These and the 10 or more ships damaged, including a 7000-ton freighter-transport, were found by bombers which ranged from Mindanao island, in the southern Philippines, southward to Celebes, Ceram and Kai islands, all now within easy range of Allied aircraft operating from newly won bases in northwestern New Guinea.

Halmahera Drubbed

Halmahera, south of Mindanao, was given a 113-ton bomb drubbing Tuesday by heavy and medium bombers. The attackers met no interception as they concentrated on coastal defenses, supply and barracks areas on Wasile and Kaeo bays. Five days ago Allied planes hit this stepping-stone to the Philippines with 156 tons of explosives.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in a Pearl Harbor press release said one enemy patrol vessel was destroyed and another one, along with a tanker and a cargo ship, damaged when Army and Navy planes Sunday attacked Paramushiro and vicinity, in the Kuriles. Another Japanese patrol ship also was attacked, but the results were not announced.

MacArthur said the planes which struck Ceram sank or severely damaged nine enemy coastal vessels and divedbombed oil installations, gun positions and bivouacs at Boela, on the east coast.

Nimitz said that army Liberator bombers also hit an airfield on Two Jima in the volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo; Pagan island in the Marianas, airfields on Moen island in Truk atoll, where Japanese fighters damaged one Liberator, and Ponape island in the eastern Carolines.

Other Assaults

Navy planes meanwhile attacked Nauru island, the phosphate center southeast of the Carolines, and continued neutralization raids against remaining Japanese-held islands in the Marshalls.

An American observer in China said incessant air battering and the hammering blows of Chinese infantrymen threatened to bog down Japan's drive into southeast China, designed to bisect China. The Japanese were engaged in bitter fighting ten miles south of Hengyang and 445 miles northwest of that railway junction.

Chungking said defending forces still fought for Lishui, potential coastal air base near Japan. Tokyo had previously reported its capture. Chinese also reported Tokyo had ordered Japanese civilians out of Shanghai and Amoy—both threatened by U. S. bombings.

Arendtsville

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Orner and daughter, of Ardmore, are spending some time with relatives in the neighborhood.

Mrs. W. L. Oyler and daughter, Mrs. George Berkheimer, are spending a few days in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kissell, of Pennwynne, and Mrs. William Sexton and Miss Peggy Sexton, of Bristol, Tennessee, have concluded a visit with Mrs. George Minter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heckenluber moved Tuesday from Bendersville to the house of Clair Taylor in town. Mr. Heckenluber is in the employ of Mr. Taylor.

Harry McDannell was a recent visitor in Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weller have returned to their home in Braddock after spending a week's vacation in Arendtsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hess and daughter, Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Rosencranz and daughter, Doris Mae, all of Northampton, were recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Nevin R. Prantz and family.

Miss Eva Boyer is spending a few days in Baltimore.

The Adult Sunday school class of the Zion Evangelical Reformed Sunday school will be taught by Elmer Yoder. Sunday school will be held at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harner, of Baltimore, spent a few days recently with her sister, Mrs. Annie Eicholtz, of "The Narrows."

Prof. and Mrs. Clyde Lady, of Shippery Rock, are spending some time with Mr. Lady's mother, Mrs. H. C. Lady.

The Rev. and Mrs. Nevin R. Prantz are spending their vacation at their home here. Due to the Polio epidemic their plans for a vacation were cancelled.

Pvt. John Miller, who spent a three weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Miller, has reported to a camp in North Carolina.

Claire Hertung, of Sunbury, recently spent a few days here making preparation for the sale of the personal effects of his mother, Mrs. John Hertung, who is now making her home with her son in Sunbury.

Mrs. Esther Stubbs entertained the Carnation Guild at her home in Quaker Valley this afternoon.

RUSS GILBERT ELECTED COACH

Russell Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Chambersburg street, was selected Wednesday to coach the Litzitz high school football team during the coming season.

Gilbert, who graduated from Gettysburg high school, and from Gettysburg college in 1933, was assistant football and basketball coach at Gettysburg high school for eight and one-half years. He resigned November 13, 1942, to accept a position in glass research work with the Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster.

The former Maroon coach will continue in his present employment, drilling his charges in off hours during the afternoons and evenings.

If Litzitz high school authorities are successful in securing a faculty member to teach physical education the new member will be named assistant coach to Gilbert.

Coach Gilbert starred in football, basketball and baseball at Gettysburg high school and in football while a college student.

CHICAGO BEARS BEAT ALL - STARS

By JERRY LISK

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—No matter how thin their ranks, the Chicago Bears still can show the College All-Stars how to win football games. They did it again—for the fourth straight time—by snatching a 24-21 triumph on a last period field goal before 50,000 rain-drenched fans at Northwestern university's Dyche stadium last night.

The All-Stars performed as advertised, but although they beat the war-depleted Bears to the scoring punch for three periods, the professional champions had what it took all the way. The issue was settled when Guard Pete Gudauskas, Bear "sophomore" from Murray (Ky.) State Teachers college, booted a field goal from the 13-yard line midway in the final quarter to break the 21-21 deadlock for a 3-point victory.

It also was obvious superiority in team-play and a better balanced attack—the Bears doubled the ground yardage of the pass-minded All-Stars—that paid off for the pros, who responded as of yore to the quarterbacking of Ensign Sid Luckman of the Merchant Marine. The Bears outgained the collegians, 143 to 77 yards on the ground, while the All-Stars made 146 yards to the pros' 128 through the air.

The Germans have labelled the Belgian guerrillas as outlaws, saying they will be treated as "treacherous murderers."

Huge Spy Group
Meanwhile, Leon Degrelle, one of the country's chief collaborators and founder of the Rexist party, has organized the Rexist along the lines of Joseph Darnand's Vichy Militia into a big spy organization, one group of which wears the Nazi uniform and guards German installations.

Sabotage has mounted steadily since D-Day, probably aided by specially trained Allied troops—including Belgians—parachuted into the country to coordinate work with the liberating army.

Meanwhile, the Belgian force under Gen. Chevalier van Strijdonck de Burckee, which was trained and equipped in Britain, is advancing with the Allied armies in France or it probably is being used in the drive toward Belgium because of its knowledge of the terrain.

The size of the army cannot be disclosed because of military reasons, but it gradually has been built up from men who escaped the country since 1940, when Belgium capitulated after desperate attempt to bar the German advance.

the county's history. The other deputy, now in charge of the office since Mr. Sheffer's death, is Mrs. Martha Boyd McClellan, who served under Roy D. Renner, whom Mr. Sheffer succeeded in office.

Mrs. Sheffer is well known in this section in American Legion circles. She formerly served for two years as president of the Auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz post and also is a former president of the four-county Council of the Legion Auxiliary, covering units in York, Adams, Franklin and Fulton counties.

She is an active member of St. James Lutheran church and Sunday school.

Corp. Reinecker Now In California

Marine Corporal George H. Reinecker, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Z. Reinecker, Aspers R. D., who was wounded during the first week of fighting on Saipan, is now in a naval hospital in Oakland, California, according to a letter received by his parents.

Cpl. Reinecker, whose wife lives in Camp Hill, was employed by an eye specialist in Harrisburg before going into the service about two and one-half years ago. He went to the South Pacific last February. In June, he was struck in the right leg by shrapnel which broke his leg above the knee. For a time he was in a hospital in Hawaii. His most recent letter states that he expects to be a patient in the California hospital for four of five months.

Cpl. Reinecker has a brother, Pfc. Walter Reinecker, who is now serving in France.

Lieutenant Gable is a graduate of New Oxford high school and of West Chester State Teachers' college.

10 JAP SHIPS SUNK BY YANKS IN WIDE AREA

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 31 (AP)—Allied airmen stalking Japanese ships from the Kuriles northeast of Nippon to the Dutch East Indies have knocked out 23 more vessels, 10 of them sunk.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today listed nine enemy craft destroyed, small freighters, coastal vessels and barges—the types which he has said were the sole supply carriers for many Japanese East Indies garrisons.

These and the 10 or more ships damaged, including a 7000-ton freighter-transport, were found by bombers which ranged from Mindanao island, in the southern Philippines, southward to Celebes, Ceram and Kai Islands, all now within easy range of Allied aircraft operating from newly won bases in northwestern New Guinea.

Halmahera Drubbed
Halmahera, south of Mindanao, was given a 113-ton bomb drubbing Tuesday by heavy and medium bombers. The attackers met no interception as they concentrated on coastal defenses, supply and barracks areas on Wasile and Kaeo bays. Five days ago Allied planes hit this stepping-stone to the Philippines with 156 tons of explosives.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in a Pearl Harbor press release said one enemy patrol vessel was destroyed and another one, along with a tanker and a cargo ship, damaged when Army and Navy planes Sunday attacked Paramushiro and vicinity, in the Kuriles. Another Japanese patrol ship also was attacked, but the results were not announced.

MacArthur said the planes which struck Ceram sank or severely damaged nine enemy coastal vessels and divebombed oil installations, gun positions and bivouacs at Boela, on the east coast. Nimitz said that army Liberator bombers also hit an airfield on two Jima in the volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo, Pagan island in the Marianas, airfields on Moen island in Truk atoll, where Japanese fighters damaged one Liberator, and Ponape island in the eastern Carolines.

Other Assaults
Navy planes meanwhile attacked Nauru island, the phosphate center southeast of the Carolines, and continued neutralization raids against remaining Japanese-held islands in the Marshalls.

An American observer in China said incessant air battering and the hammering blows of Chinese infantrymen threatened to bog down Japanese drive into southeast China, designed to bisect China. The Japanese were engaged in bitter fighting ten miles south of Hengyang and 445 miles northwest of that railway junction.

Chungking said defending forces still fought for Lishui, potential coastal air base near Japan. Tokyo had previously reported its capture.

Chinese also reported Tokyo had ordered Japanese civilians out of Shanghai and Amoy—both threatened by U. S. bombings.

The Rev. and Mrs. Nevin R. Prantz are spending their vacation at their home here. Due to the Polio epidemic their plans for a vacation were cancelled.

Pvt. John Miller, who spent a three weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Miller, has reported to a camp in North Carolina.

Claire Hertung, of Sunbury, recently spent a few days here making preparation for the sale of the personal effects of his mother, Mrs. John Hertung, who is now making her home with her son in Sunbury.

Mrs. Esther Stubbs entertained the Carnation Guild at her home in Quaker Valley this afternoon.

RUSS GILBERT ELECTED COACH

Russell Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Chambersburg street, was selected Wednesday to coach the Litzitz high school football team during the coming season.

Gilbert, who graduated from Gettysburg high school, and from Gettysburg college in 1933, was assistant football and basketball coach at Gettysburg high school for eight and one-half years. He resigned November 13, 1942, to accept a position in glass research work with the Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster.

The former Maroon coach will continue in his present employment, drilling his charges in off hours during the afternoons and evenings.

If Litzitz high school authorities are successful in securing a faculty member to teach physical education the new member will be named assistant coach to Gilbert.

Coach Gilbert starred in football, basketball and baseball at Gettysburg high school and in football while a college student.

CHICAGO BEARS BEAT ALL - STARS

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—No matter how thin their ranks, the Chicago Bears still can show the College All-Stars how to win football games. They did it again—for the fourth straight time—by snatching a 24-21 triumph on a last period field goal before 50,000 rain-drenched fans at Northwestern university's D. yche stadium last night.

The All-Stars performed as advertised, but although they beat the war-depleted Bears to the scoring punch for three periods, the professional champions had what it took all the way. The issue was settled when Guard Pete Gudauskas, Bear "sophomore" from Murray (Ky.) State Teachers college, booted a field goal from the 13-yard line midway in the final quarter to break the 21-21 deadlock for a 3-point victory.

It also was obvious superiority in team-play and a better balanced attack—the Bears doubled the ground yardage of the pass-minded All-Stars—that paid off for the pros, who responded as of yore to the quarterbacking of Ensign Sid Luckman of the Merchant Marine. The Bears outgained the collegians, 143 to 77 yards on the ground, while the All-Stars made 146 yards to the pros' 128 through the air.

Miss Frances Bucher has returned to Baltimore after a short visit at her home in Biglerville.

RATIONED MEAT POINTS REMAIN 4 MORE WEEKS

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Point values of rationed meats will remain unchanged in the four-week period beginning Sunday (September 3) and ending September 30, but some varieties of cheese and canned milk will cost more points.

The point value of Group 3 cheeses, such as Swiss, Italian, Munster, Limburger, Camembert, Liederkranz, grated - dehydrated, Brick, Gouda, Greek, Edam, Bleu and Brie is increased from 8 to 10 points a pound.

Canned milk, both condensed and evaporated, will cost one point a pound, instead of two-thirds of a point. Heretofore, a single can of milk has taken one point, but three cans cost only two points.

16 Points For Butter
In announcing September red point values, the Office of Price Administration said consumers had been buying Group 3 cheeses in excess of allocation for civilian use, and that sales of canned milk also were running ahead of War Food Administration allocations.

Creamery butter will continue to cost 16 points a pound, although September charts show a value of 20 points. A "16" will be pasted over this.

Duncan Early American Sandwich Pattern

This glassware has the lacy loveliness which has made Early American Sandwich patterns a favorite for almost a hundred years.

Today, with the vogue of Early American and Victorian interiors, Colonial homes and maple furniture, it is rising to new heights of popularity.

This Sandwich Pattern is made by Duncan, which has more than 78 years of glassmaking tradition. It is one of the patterns inspired by the glassmakers of old Cape Cod.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Recipe for a Perfect Marriage

Dee and Jane Cuppers celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Saturday. Having so many friends, it seemed like half the town stopped in that evening to pay their respects.

Little Ida Moffat brought a home-made poem to read, called Love Enduring. Bert Childers fiddled "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Will Dudley made a speech and proposed a toast.

And as I watched that toast—Dee with his glass of beer, Jane with her buttermilk—I thought to myself: There's a recipe for happy marriage. Two folks with different tastes—no doubt an honest fault or two—through the years have learned to live in tolerance and understanding.

From where I sit, Dee and Jane are a mighty good example to young married people of today—an example of how moderation, tolerance and understanding can build lasting happiness and solid homes.

EARLY MEETING OF CHURCHILL, FDR EXPECTED

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—It now seems certain that before another month passes President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill will meet to formalize plans for the control of Germany—now approaching defeat—and the immediate post-war security of the western world.

Also expected to come up for discussion are arrangements for Britain's full participation in the final phases of the war against Japan once Germany is out of the way. This British help was promised by the Prime Minister when the President and he got together at Quebec, Canada, a year ago this month.

Little remained to be announced of the forthcoming session except the time and place. President Roosevelt had answered every recent press conference inquiry with the comment that he would meet Churchill soon. London reports said today that Churchill would not remain long in England following his trip to Italy and his conference with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

What About Stalin?
It is recognized in official circles that one of the Allies' most urgent immediate problems is that of short-range security in Europe, calling for continued political cooperation of the Allied powers after the necessity for cohesive military efforts has vanished.

This calls initially for continuation and expansion of the European Advisory Commission—a war agency created by the United States, British and Russian Foreign Ministers in their meeting at Moscow last fall. But that highlights another problem which the President and

Prime Minister will encounter: what about Stalin?

In the past the three powers have been able to agree on military and political questions. Now the Anglo-American armies are within possibly a few weeks of meeting Russian armies in crumbling Germany and Anglo-American diplomacy must meet Russian diplomacy in every corner of Europe.

Some observers here are privately expressing surprise, therefore, that none of the numerous reports from Washington and London on the next meeting have spoken of Russian representation. In the absence of such indications it is assumed that Russia will be kept closely informed of developments, and that no conclusive actions will be taken which are not fully approved by the Russians.

TO BE EXECUTED

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—William Hough, 49, convicted of the 1942 slaying of his estranged wife, Inez, and Frederick L. Culp, none of the numerous reports from Philadelphia, will be executed in the San Quentin gas chamber on November 10, Superior Court Judge Leslie said yesterday.

Hope Fear Will Goad Nazi People

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—An analysis of Nazi high command communications indicates the German people are being kept informed of Allied advances in the east and west, apparently as a means of rallying them in a maximum effort for defense of the homeland.

The high command acknowledges the Allied gains, then Nazi propaganda indicates the German people are being kept informed of Allied they promise will come secret weapons that will mean a German victory.

Frequently the German communications are ahead of Allied reports. Almost invariably the eastern front retreats are announced before the work in the factories, from which

Allied superiority, especially in the air, is stressed constantly as the main reason for the Germans' unpopularity.

A 48 Gun Salute ***

The entire nation... and all free nations of the world look to American Labor to supply the fighting tools of Victory... and Labor comes across! This Labor Day will find countless Americans... men and women, at their stations in War Plants, continuing to turn out the weapons and supplies without which there can be no peace... no Victory. It is our honor and privilege to join with the rest of America and her Allies in saluting the men and women in overalls who haven't the time to celebrate... but who have the wit and spirit to fight through work for freedom. To the winning team of fighters and workers... a 48-gun salute! Their happiest holiday will come with Victory!

EARLY MEETING OF CHURCHILL, FOR EXPECTED

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—It now seems certain that before another month passes President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill will meet to formalize plans for the control of Germany—now approaching defeat—and the immediate postwar security of the western world.

Also expected to come up for discussion are arrangements for Britain's full participation in the final phases of the war against Japan once Germany is out of the way. This British help was promised by the Prime Minister when the President and he got together at Quebec, Canada, a year ago this month.

Little remained to be announced of the forthcoming session except the time and place. President Roosevelt had answered every recent press conference inquiry with the comment that he would meet Churchill soon. London reports said today that Churchill would not remain long in England following his trip to Italy and his conference with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

What About Stalin?
It is recognized in official circles that one of the Allies' most urgent immediate problems is that of short-range security in Europe, calling for continued political cooperation of the Allied powers after the necessity for cohesive military efforts has vanished.

This calls initially for continuation and expansion of the European Advisory Commission—a war agency created by the United States, British and Russian Foreign Ministers in their meeting at Moscow last fall. But that highlights another problem which the President and

Prime Minister will encounter: what about Stalin?

In the past the three powers have been able to agree on military and political questions. Now the Anglo-American armies are within possibly a few weeks of meeting Russian armies in crumbling Germany and Anglo-American diplomacy must meet Russian diplomacy in every corner of Europe.

Some observers here are privately expressing surprise, therefore, that none of the numerous reports from Washington and London on the next meeting have spoken of Russian representation. In the absence of such indications it is assumed that Russia will be kept closely informed of developments, and that no conclusive actions will be taken which are not fully approved by the Russians.

TO BE EXECUTED

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—William Hough, 49, convicted of the 1942 slaying of his estranged wife, Inez, and Frederick L. Culp, Philadelphia, will be executed in San Quentin's gas chamber on Nov. 10, Superior Court Judge Leslie said yesterday.

Hope Fear Will Goad Nazi People

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—An analysis of Nazi high command communications indicates the German people are being kept informed of Allied advances in the east and west, apparently as a means of rallying them in a maximum effort for defense of the homeland.

The high command acknowledges the Allied gains, then Nazi propagandists stress the need for harder work in the factories, from which they promise will come secret weapons that will mean a German victory.

Frequently the German communiques are ahead of Allied reports. Almost invariably the eastern front retreats are announced before the Russian claim advances.

Allied superiority, especially in the air, is stressed constantly as the main reason for the Germans' undoing.

The scheelea palm nut of Columbia yields oil suitable for soap and lard.

SHORT SPUD CROP

Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—Drought conditions may result in a "short" Pennsylvania potato crop, reports the Federal-State Crop Agency of the Agriculture Department. The agency said late potatoes are running small in Potter county.

A 48 Gun Salute

The entire nation... and all free nations of the world look to American Labor to supply the fighting tools of Victory... and Labor comes across! This Labor Day will find countless Americans... men and women, at their stations in War Plants, continuing to turn out the weapons and supplies without which there can be no peace... no Victory. It is our honor and privilege to join with the rest of America and her Allies in saluting the men and women in overalls who haven't the time to celebrate... but who have the will and spirit to fight through work for freedom. To the winning team of fighters and workers... a 48-gun salute! Their happiest holiday will come with Victory!

PURPOSE

No way to know our purpose here!
No orders on a piece of paper,
In phrase official and severe:
Be priest or poet, smith or draper.

No plain directive as we start!
No briefing of our earthly mission!
Sent here, from science, trade or art
To find and serve our own ambition.

We come our labor here to choose,
Drawn to it by some strange attraction,
The joys of Heaven to win or lose,
And worldly pride and satisfaction.

God leaves us free through life to go,
Do what seems right, and sometimes blunder.
Our service! Was it destined so?
Ah, that is what we often wonder!

Today's Talk

CONTENTMENT

Contentment is something that we all search for, but gain only momentarily. Perhaps it is best, for then there is something ever for which to look forward.

Oliver Wendell Holmes once gave as his definition of contentment—"four feet on the fender." Which, during his time, was undoubtedly true, for there were many fenders. To sit before a log fire, with the jagged crackling, a book in hand and a gentle patter of rain upon the roof above, to me at least represents a picture of contentment that is both realistic and comforting.

I am reminded of the boy with a fishing rod, who passed by the palace of a King, who was looking out of a window, wishing that he were the King—and the King wishing that he were the boy. And then that other story of the King who longed for contentment, and sent his couriers throughout his Kingdom to search for a contented man, and when found, to get his shirt and bring it to the King, that he might also, perhaps, enjoy the contentment of the man who wore it. The couriers searched, and coming upon an old man by the roadside, singing, asked if he were happy. "Yes," said the stranger. "But are you contented?" "I am." "Let us have your shirt." "But I have no shirt!"

Health and an easy conscience both go far toward furnishing one with a happy phase of contentment. But it is possible to have a personal philosophy of life that can go far in giving to anyone bits of contentment that will smooth out many a problem, and clear many a rough way ahead. Envy no one else's good fortune; rather rejoice in it. Take things as they come, without complaint. Banish all fear from your life. Look upon Nature as a teacher, emulate her beauties and seek out her truths.

Administering to others, unexpectedly, always brings not only a certain contentment, but a joy and satisfaction that are rarely rivaled.

It's the little things in life that bring the most contentment. A day in the country, painting from nature. An hour or so in the forest, sitting upon a log, or upon the pungent earth, listening to the fascinating calls of birds. Or alone in a boat with a fishing rod—every moment expecting a nibble or a strike!

Henry Bream to Coach at Phoenixville High: Henry Bream, Gettysburg college athlete, has returned to Gettysburg after spending the summer months in Hazleton. He is leaving in a few days for Phoenixville, where he has accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Phoenixville high school.

Return from Ohio: Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Thomas and sons, "Ted" and "Dickie," returned to Gettysburg Saturday after spending two weeks with friends and relatives in Alliance, Ohio. The trip was made in the Thomas car.

Wed at Church: Miss Mary Jane Rudisill, Barlow, and Harvey Luther Sterner, Gardner, were quietly married at the Mt. Joy Lutheran church Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, by the Rev. L. K. Young, pastor.

Three hundred twenty-five enrolled in School Here: Gettysburg's high school 1924-25 school term witnesses the peak in student enrollment, when Professor W. D. Reynolds announced that 127 freshmen had been enrolled so far bringing the total enrollment to 325 thus far, 47 more than the enrollment last year.

Shoe Store Manager: Wilbur Geiselman has accepted the position of manager of the local branch of the Daily Line shoe store, Baltimore street. He succeeds John Ports, of Hanover.

Coolidge Aide Greets Prince—New York, Aug. 27—The Prince of Wales, will be met by a private yacht at Quarantine when he arrives on the Berengaria Friday morning and taken to Oyster Bay. From there he will motor to the James A. Burden estate at Soyset, where he will be the guest during his visit.

Among those on board the yacht will be Major Oscar Selbert, the President's junior aide and former military attaché to the American Embassy in London, who will be the personal representative of the President. J. Butler Wright, Third Assistant Secretary of State, will welcome the prince on behalf of the government.

Lions Play with "Kids" at Picnic: Lions gamboled with the lambs on the green of the Playground Thursday afternoon when the local civic organization played host to boys and girls of Gettysburg up to 12 years.

At 2 o'clock a colored orchestra struck up a lively tune and from then on until 4 there was music to help entertain the crowd. The following received prizes for the various events:

BRADLEY MADE OVERALL CHIEF OF U. S. FORCES

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today that Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley has become overall commander of American forces in northern France, a position equal with that of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, who commands British forces in the field.

In making the announcement, Eisenhower described Montgomery as not only his close and warm friend but one of the greatest soldiers of this or any other war.

The supreme commander said the division of command when the French campaign reached the present stage had been envisioned from the start and that the present setup merely put into effect what had been regarded all along as the final stage of the Allied command system.

No Sharp Differences
Eisenhower emphasized again the unity of thought and cooperation at his headquarters and among his commanders, and declared that to this day there never had been any sharp difference of opinion among those who constitute his command team.

Commenting on a Washington report that the whole French operation—northern and southern invasions—soon would be brought under his command, the supreme commander said this was a matter for the decision of the combined chiefs of staff.

He disclosed that the campaign of northern France now is ahead of

PURPOSE

No way to know our purpose here!
No orders on a piece of paper,
In phrase official and severe:
Be priest or poet, smith or draper.

No plain directive as we start!
No briefing of our earthly mission!
Sent here, from science, trade or art
To find and serve our own ambition.

We come our labor here to choose,
Drawn to it by some strange attraction,
The joys of Heaven to win or lose,
And worldly pride and satisfaction.

God leaves us free through life to go,
Do what seems right, and sometimes blunder.
Our service! Was it destined so?
Ah, that is what we often wonder!

Today's Talk

CONTENTMENT

Contentment is something that we all search for, but gain only momentarily. Perhaps it is best, for then there is something ever for which to look forward.

Oliver Wendell Holmes once gave as his definition of contentment—"four feet on the fender." Which, during his time, was undoubtedly true, for there were many fenders. To sit before a log fire, with the logs crackling, a book in hand and a gentle patter of rain upon the roof above, to me at least represents a picture of contentment that is both realistic and comforting.

I am reminded of the boy with a fishing rod, who passed by the palace of a King, who was looking out of a window, wishing that he were the King—and the King wishing that he were the boy. And then that other story of the King who longed for contentment, and sent his couriers throughout his Kingdom to search for a contented man, and when found, to get his shirt and bring it to the King, that he might also, perhaps, enjoy the contentment of the man who wore it. The couriers searched, and coming upon an old man by the roadside, singing, asked if he were happy. "Yes," said the stranger. "But are you contented?" "I am." "Let us have your shirt." "But I have no shirt!"

Health and an easy conscience both go far toward furnishing one with a happy phase of contentment. But it is possible to have a personal philosophy of life that can go far in giving to anyone bits of contentment that will smooth out many a problem, and clear many a rough way ahead. Envy no one else's good fortune; rather rejoice in it. Take things as they come, without complaint. Banish all fear from your life. Look upon Nature as a teacher, emulate her beauties and seek out her truths.

Administering to others, unexpectedly, always brings not only a certain contentment, but a joy and satisfaction that are rarely rivaled.

It's the little things in life that bring the most contentment. A day in the country, painting from nature. An hour or so in the forest, sitting upon a log, or upon the pungent earth, listening to the fascinating calls of birds. Or alone in a boat with a fishing rod—every moment expecting a nibble or a strike!

The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Henry Bream to Coach at Phoenixville High: Henry Bream, Gettysburg college athlete, has returned to Gettysburg after spending the summer months in Hazleton. He is leaving in a few days for Phoenixville, where he has accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Phoenixville high school.

Return from Ohio: Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Thomas and sons, "Ted" and "Dickie," returned to Gettysburg Saturday after spending two weeks with friends and relatives in Alliance, Ohio. The trip was made in the Thomas car.

Wed at Church: Miss Mary Jane Rudisill, Barlow, and Harvey Luther Sterner, Gardners, were quietly married at the Mt. Joy Lutheran church Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, by the Rev. L. K. Young, pastor.

Three hundred twenty-five enrolled in School Here: Gettysburg's high school 1924-25 school term witnesses the peak in student enrollment, when Professor W. D. Reynolds announced that 127 freshmen had been enrolled so far bringing the total enrollment to 325 thus far, 47 more than the enrollment last year.

Shoe Store Manager: Wilbur Geiselman has accepted the position of manager of the local branch of the Dally Line shoe store, Baltimore street. He succeeds John Ports, of Hanover.

Coolidge Aide Greets Prince—New York, Aug. 27—The Prince of Wales, will be met by a private yacht at Quarantine when he arrives on the Berengaria Friday morning and taken to Oyster Bay. From there he will motor to the James A. Burden estate at Soyset, where he will be the guest during his visit. Among those on board the yacht will be Major Oscar Solbert, the President's junior aide and former military attaché to the American Embassy in London, who will be the personal representative of the President. J. Butler Wright, Third Assistant Secretary of State, will welcome the prince on behalf of the government.

Lions Play with "Kids" at Picnic: Lions gamboled with the lambs on the green of the Playground Thursday afternoon when the local civic organization played host to boys and girls of Gettysburg up to 12 years.

At 2 o'clock a colored orchestra struck up a lively tune and from then on until 4 there was music to help entertain the crowd. The following received prizes for the various events:

BRADLEY MADE OVERALL CHIEF OF U. S. FORCES

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today that Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley has become overall commander of American forces in northern France, a position equal with that of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, who commands British forces in the field.

In making the announcement, Eisenhower described Montgomery as not only his close and warm friend but one of the greatest soldiers of this or any other war.

The supreme commander said the division of command when the French campaign reached the present stage had been envisioned from the start and that the present setup merely put into effect what had been regarded all along as the final stage of the Allied command system.

No Sharp Differences

Eisenhower emphasized again the unity of thought and cooperation at his headquarters and among his commanders, and declared that to this day there never had been any sharp difference of opinion among those who constitute his command team.

Commenting on a Washington report that the whole French operation—northern and southern invasions—soon would be brought under his command, the supreme commander said this was a matter for the decision of the combined chiefs of staff.

He disclosed that the campaign of northern France now is ahead of

PESARO PORT ON ADRIATIC IS CAPTURED

Rome, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Adriatic port of Pesaro, one of the eastern anchors of the Germans' Gothic line, has fallen to Polish troops, and Allied forces are in contact with strong enemy positions further inland after storming across the Foglia river on a broad front.

Pesaro fell only after a bitter fight in which both infantry and armor participated. The Germans counterattacked fiercely yesterday after the Poles had wrested part of the city, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

New Resistance
The Poles announced they had taken a sizeable bag of prisoners in the fighting.

Dispatches from the front said that a Nazi was left on the south bank of the Foglia for a distance of 16 miles inland from the Adriatic.

North of Pesaro, which is just east of Florence, several important features were captured, headquarters said, but enemy resistance was reported becoming stronger hourly in this sector.

The Poles announced they had taken a sizeable bag of prisoners in the fighting.

Dispatches from the front said that in some places further west Eighth Army troops drove across the Foglia so swiftly that the Germans had not even had time to lay mines.

Headquarters said, however, that the forces already at grips with positions in the Gothic line—on which the enemy is expected to make his main stand in defense of northern Italy—were meeting stiff resistance.

Reports from the field said that not a Nazi was left on the south bank of the Foglia for a distance of 16 miles inland from the Adriatic.

North of Pontassieve, which is just east of Florence, several important features were captured, headquarters said, but enemy resistance was reported becoming stronger hourly in this sector.

CLOSE TWO CAMPS
Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP) — The State Health Department has quarantined two work camps in York county until 400 Jamaican laborers, brought here to help ease harvest worker shortages, have undergone venereal tests. Deputy Secretary Dr. J. Moore Campbell said 31 of the imported laborers have shown positive reactions to the disease in preliminary tests.

40 HUNTING LICENSES
Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP) —

Monroe J. Smith, 80, kept a 40-year record unbroken when he purchased a 1944 hunting license. He has 14 groundhogs to his credit since July 1.

PESARO PORT ON ADRIATIC IS CAPTURED

Rome, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Adriatic port of Pesaro, one of the eastern anchors of the Germans' Gothic line, has fallen to Polish troops, and Allied forces now are in contact with strong enemy positions further inland after storming across the Foglia river on a broad front.

Pesaro fell only after a bitter fight in which both infantry and armor participated. The Germans counterattacked fiercely yesterday after the Poles had invested part of the city, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

New Resistance
The Poles announced they had taken a sizeable bag of prisoners in the fighting.

Dispatches from the front said that in some places further west

Eight Army troops drove across the Foglia so swiftly that the Germans had not even had time to lay mines.

Headquarters said, however, that the forces already at grips with positions in the Gothic line—on which the enemy is expected to make his main stand in defense of northern Italy—were meeting stiff resistance.

Reports from the field said that not a Nazi was left on the south bank of the Foglia for a distance of 16 miles inland from the Adriatic.

North of Ponassieve, which is just east of Florence, several important features were captured, headquarters said, but enemy resistance was reported becoming stronger hourly in this sector.

CLOSE TWO CAMPS

Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP) — The State Health Department has quarantined two work camps in York county until 400 Jamaican laborers, brought here to help ease harvest worker shortages, have undergone venereal tests. Deputy Secretary Dr. J. Moore Campbell said 31 of the imported laborers have shown positive reactions to the disease in preliminary tests.

MAROONS START DRILLS FRIDAY; BIGLER TUESDAY

Coach Melvin Dry, Gettysburg high school football mentor, will hold the first drill for his candidates on the high school field Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Workouts for the entire squad will be held each morning at 9 until the opening of school. For members of the squad over 17 years of age and who are not affected by the health regulations, drills will also be held in the afternoon.

Coach Dry stated this morning that the practices will be in strict accord with the ruling that no body contact will be permitted until the ban is lifted.

This morning candidates submitted to medical examinations by Dr. Raymond Sheely, school physician.

Henry T. Bream, who will pilot Bigler's high school team, has announced the first workout for the Cannons will be held Tuesday afternoon beginning at 4 o'clock. One workout will be held each afternoon and each will be held in accordance with the health rules.

The Maroons are scheduled to open their season Friday, September 22, when Shippensburg high will be played here in a night game.

Bigler's season opens Saturday.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1944

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

Among the customs of early times was the collections taken in churches; a pole 10 feet long, with a velvet bag having a hoop at top, fastened to the pole, was carried around and presented to each in turn for their contributions. Later came the basket; next the plates. A common custom was for some men to nod their heads instead of dropping in a penny, as they called this their penny contribution.

Butchers
Butchering was carried on at the tan yards in early times; one beef a week or in two weeks; later, one killed on Monday and Friday. Where J. H. Row lives a retail beef market was carried on for a long time; where Hoke's millinery store stands, as far back as 1850, it was a meat store; twice a week only, could beef be bought; bacon was the meat used, each family curing it in the fall; the town was full of pig sties; now mark the advantages; beef all the time; cold storage to keep it; canvassed bacon, etc.

Relics
The Zacharias family have a jug given the family by a Hessian soldier taken prisoner at Yorktown. Joseph T. Gelwicks has sabre, rifle, revolver, spurs and canteen; George Gelwicks has sabre, rifle, shells, bullets; the Miss Helms have a solid twelve pound ball picked up on the Gettysburg battlefield; David T. Hoff has a grape shot and rifle ball his grandfather brought from the War of 1812; S. D. Helman has a small Bible he picked up when on the march to the sea with General Sherman; also a Tennessee marble Bible, carved by one of the soldiers, with square and compass cut on one side.

Jail
About 1858 the corporate authorities concluded to erect a jail. The spot selected was that point of land at the intersection of the Gettysburg road and the alley bordering the priest's lot, where in the long ago the public school house stood. Here they built a stone house about 16 feet square; a few persons were confined in it at different times over night. One night part of the wall was opened near the roof; eventually the house was taken down. If a place was wanted for a drunken man he was confined in the rear of the engine house.

Along in the eighties the present iron cage was made in Waynesboro for the town; when it arrived the boys intended to run it back to Toms creek and throw it off the bridge into the creek; a car of lime standing on the track prevented this game. The commissioners had a difficulty in getting someone to haul it to the place assigned. It was taken there on an open wagon in the evening; the next day someone ran the wagon down into the field and upset this iron jail off the wagon. After great labor it was placed in position; give the men the credit due them. Whilst it is not the best jail, it has served the purpose of preventing crime and drunkenness, for all fear being put into this horrible thing. The county jail has always been the place men were committed, and always will be to serve a sentence; this iron jail is simply to scare evil doers or for a night of safe keeping.

St. Mary's
This institution has a history justly entitled to be told. Whilst it does not date back as far in the past as some others, it can be justly proud of its work and speak in excellent terms of some of its pupils. The Rev. John Dubois bought the first land for the seminary April 28, 1807, of Arnold Elder; also the plantation of same August, 1808, possession 1809. The seminary of Pigeon Hills begun by Mr. Nugent in 1806 was transferred to St. Mary's after Easter, 1809. Seventeen young men were sent to the care of Mr. Dubois, and lodged first at the home of Mr. Arnold Elder. From the beginning of this enterprise until he was made bishop of New York, the Rev. John Dubois was president.

The Rev. Simon Gabriel Brutea who in 1834 was made bishop of Vincennes, Indiana, assisted Father Dubois in his labors, as did the Revs. Duhamel and Hickey. From the establishment of St. Mary's college until the fall of 1894, the president of the college was acting pastor of the mountain church. The parish priests were the Revs. Michael Egan, John McGarry and John Purcell until 1832, between which time and 1838 the Rev. Francis B. Jamison and Thomas R. Butler presided. In this year the Rev. John McCaffery, a native of Emmitsburg and a pupil of the Rev. Dubois, succeeded to the presidency, an office which he held with great success until 1871 when he was succeeded by the Rev. John McClosky, who in 1877 gave place to the Rev. John A. Waterson; after him again in 1880, the Rev. John McClosky until his death on December 24, 1880.

The Rev. William Hill was called to the presidency, who for a short time looked after the interests of the college, until the Rev. William Byrne, D.D., vicar-general of Boston, took charge. This office was

SEIZURE OF MINES LOOMS; VOTERS SPLIT

Pittsburgh, Aug. 31 (AP)—Threat of imminent government seizure of idle western Pennsylvania coal mines today confronted some 5,600 strikers after the War Labor Board referred to the President a dispute involving demands for company recognition of a supervisors' union.

Meanwhile, the industry anxiously awaited developments of strike votes taken yesterday at five Cambria county mines, where mine and fire bosses at three pits voted for a work stoppage, one balked against going out and the fifth deadlocked on the issue.

The strike polls, conducted by the National Labor Relations board, were taken among members of the Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Employees union—a branch of the United Mine Workers' "Catch-All" district 50—after the 30-day "cooling off" period required under terms of the Smith-Connally Anti-Strike law.

Defy WLB Order
After the union leadership flatly defied a WLB order to terminate current strikes, the board placed the dispute before President Roosevelt yesterday in an aroused attempt to head off widespread walkouts.

The board acted after receiving a telegram from John McAlpine, head of the district 50 union, which said: "Due to the fact that the board cannot legally accept jurisdiction of main issues on the ballot, namely collective bargaining and union recognition, the members of this union see no reason why they should terminate present work stoppages."

The UMW, organizing the supervisory forces of the coal companies, is attempting to obtain recognition as bargaining agent. Employer recognition of supervisory workers is not required nor is it prohibited by interpretations of the National Labor Relations board.

As reported by the NLRB, yesterday's strike votes in Cambria county showed that of the 127 supervisors eligible to vote at the five operations, 68 balloted for a strike, 49 against and 10 did not vote at all.

Police Recover Antique Jewelry

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Police picked up 2,660 stolen antique jewelry pieces in an open lot, where thieves tossed them, and then went hunting for 57 additional missing items.

"We threw them in the Schuylkill river," said a trio being held by police in connection with the robbery. "We were going to wear the stuff but we thought maybe we "could be too conspicuous wearing so much antique jewelry."

SAVES 15 STEERS

Lancaster, Pa., August 31 (AP)—Mrs. Katie Hostetter, 70-year-old farmer's wife, was the only one at home when fire flared through the barn. She drove 15 steers to safety and then dragged a heavy wagon from the blazing structure—everything else was destroyed.

FOUNTAINDALE SOLDIER WRITES OF "LUXURIES"

Second Lieutenant Luther Martin, now serving as a finance division officer with the U. S. Army in India, has told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin of Fountaindale, in a recent letter of the "luxuries" available to a Yankee in India at small cost.

An interesting account of his experience as an American officer in India is contained in the letter which follows in part:

"I have seen many strange sights since leaving my quiet and peaceful home at Fountaindale and while this life is extreme I'll be glad again to be home with our family and friends. The life of an American soldier in India is a luxury of servants for every wish at a few pennies a day, and I'm afraid that I'll need some one to bring my coat and shine my shoes when I return home. Maybe my older brothers will be of help in that connection.

The boat, train and plane trip to India was full of thrills, and will be worth the telling when restrictions have been lifted. Life here has many sides, the very rich and the very poor and distressed people, all adhering to some particular form of religion of which there are an uncountable number. There are about 100 languages in the country, 30 of which are widely spoken. They have a god for success who is worshipped when a business deal is pending, a god of rain if there is a drought, and a god of sunshine if there is more rain than needed and so on to suit individual requirements. These people travel many miles to worship their special god.

"India is the richest country in the world, yet many people starve to death due to drought, to the practice of class distinction. One class will have food in abundance while others in the immediate vicinity may be starving. They do not slip in the backdoor of some neighbor's home who is sick and needs food as do we Americans. If our folks were here to see the starving people in the streets I feel sure that boxes of food would come to India in great numbers. We have been so very fortunate in that beautiful country of ours, and I will enjoy to the fullest living there the remainder of my

To Return Funds For Fete For Hero

Oil City, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—Oil City residents who contributed money for a homecoming celebration for the nation's leading air ace, Lt. Col. Francis Gabreski, are going to get it all back.

The committee in charge yesterday voted to return all donations since the date of the return of Col. Gabreski, recently reported a German prisoner of war, was problematical. Unclaimed money will go into a general fund for a victory parade at the end of the war.

besides materially lowers the cost of funerals. India has many millions of extremely poor people and deaths among the population are relatively high, and the cost of a funeral must by necessity be nil. After you have witnessed some of the unbelievable extremes in the life of India nothing is beyond your imagination, however, don't judge all India by what I have told you for there are many Christian people much like we Americans.

Love from your son,

LUTHER MARTIN

SEIZURE OF MINES LOOMS; VOTERS SPLIT

Pittsburgh, Aug. 31 (AP)—Threat of imminent government seizure of idle western Pennsylvania coal mines today confronted some 5,600 strikers after the War Labor Board referred to the President a dispute involving demands for company recognition of a supervisors' union.

Meanwhile, the industry anxiously awaited developments of strike votes taken yesterday at five Cambria county mines, where mine and fire bosses at three pits voted for a work stoppage, one balloted against going out and the fifth deadlocked on the issue.

The strike polls, conducted by the National Labor Relations board, were taken among members of the Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Employees union—a branch of the United Mine Workers' "Catch-All" district 50—after the 30-day "cooling off" period required under terms of the Smith-Connally Anti-Strike law.

Defy WLB Order
After the union leadership flatly defied a WLB order to terminate current strikes, the board placed the dispute before President Roosevelt yesterday in an avowed attempt to head off widespread walkouts.

The board acted after receiving a telegram from John McAlpine, head of the district 50 union, which said: "Due to the fact that the board cannot legally accept jurisdiction of main issues on the ballot, namely collective bargaining and union recognition, the members of this union see no reason why they should terminate present work stoppages."

The UMW, organizing the supervisory forces of the coal companies, is attempting to obtain recognition as bargaining agent. Employer recognition of supervisory workers is not required nor is it prohibited by interpretations of the National Labor Relations board.

As reported by the NLRB, yesterday's strike votes in Cambria county showed that of the 127 supervisors eligible to vote at the five operations, 68 balloted for a strike, 49 against and 10 did not vote at all.

FOUNTAINDALE SOLDIER WRITES OF "LUXURIES"

Second Lieutenant Luther Martin, now serving as a finance division officer with the U. S. Army in India, has told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin of Fountaindale, in a recent letter of the "luxuries" available to a Yankee in India at small cost.

An interesting account of his experiences as an American officer in India is contained in the letter which follows in part:

"I have seen many strange sights since leaving my quiet and peaceful home at Fountaindale and while this life is exciting I'll be glad again to be home with our family and friends. The life of an American soldier in India is a luxury of servants for every wish at a few pennies a day, and I'm afraid that I'll need some one to bring my coat and shine my shoes when I return home. Maybe my older brothers will be of help in that connection.

"The boat, train and plane trip to India was full of thrills, and will be worth the telling when restrictions have been lifted. Life here has many sides, the very rich and the very poor and distressed people all adhering to some particular form of religion of which there are an uncountable number. THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1944

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

Among the customs of early times was the collections taken in churches; a pole 10 feet long, with a velvet bag having a hoop at top, fastened to the pole, was carried around and presented to each in turn for their contributions. Later came the basket; next the plates. A common custom was for some men to nod their heads instead of dropping in a penny, as they called this their penny contribution.

Butchers
Butchering was carried on at the tan yards in early times; one beef a week or in two weeks; later, one killed on Monday and Friday. Where J. H. Row lives a retail beef market was carried on for a long time; where Hoke's millinery store stands, as far back as 1850, it was a meat store; twice a week only, could beef be bought; bacon was the meat used, each family curing it in the fall; the town was full of pig stys; now mark the advantages; beef all the time; cold storage to keep it; canvassed bacon, etc.

Relics
The Zacharias family have a jug given the family by a Hessian soldier taken prisoner at Yorktown. Joseph T. Gelwicks has sabre, rifle, revolver, spurs and canteen; George Gelwicks has sabre, rifle, shells, bullets; the Miss Helms have a solid twelve pound ball picked up on the Gettysburg battlefield; David T. Hoff has a grape shot and rifle ball his grandfather brought from the War of 1812; S. D. Helman has a small Bible he picked up when on the march to the sea with General Sherman; also a Tennessee marble Bible, carved by one of the soldiers, with square and compass cut on one side.

Jail
About 1858 the corporate authorities concluded to erect a jail. The spot selected was that point of land at the intersection of the Gettysburg road and the alley bordering the priest's lot, where in the long ago the public school house stood. Here they built a stone house about 16 feet square; a few persons were confined in it at different times over night. One night part of the wall was opened near the roof; eventually the house was taken down. If a place was wanted for a drunken man he was confined in the rear of the engine house.

Along in the eighties the present iron cage was made in Waynesboro for the town; when it arrived the boys intended to run it back to Toms creek and throw it off the bridge into the creek; a car of lime standing on the track prevented this game. The commissioners had a difficulty in getting someone to haul it to the place assigned. It was taken there on an open wagon in the evening; the next day someone ran the wagon down into the field and upset this iron jail off the wagon. After great labor it was placed in position; give the men the credit due them. Whilst it is not the best jail, it has served the purpose of preventing crime and drunkenness, for all fear being put into this horrible thing. The county jail has always been the place men were committed, and always will be to serve a sentence; this iron jail is simply to scare evil doers or for a night of safe keeping.

Mt. St. Mary's
This institution has a history justly entitled to be told. Whilst it does not date back as far in the past as some others, it can be justly proud of its work and speak in excellent terms of some of its pupils. The Rev. John Dubois bought the first land for the seminary April 28, 1807, of Arnold Elder; also the plantation of same August, 1808, possession 1809. The seminary of Pigeon Hills begun by Mr. Nugent in 1806 was transferred to Mt. St. Mary's after Easter, 1809. Seventeen young men were sent to the care of Mr. Dubois, and lodged first at the home of Mr. Arnold Elder. From the beginning of this enterprise until he was made bishop of New York, the Rev. John Dubois was president.

The Rev. Simon Gabriel Brutea who in 1834 was made bishop of Vincennes, Indiana, assisted Father Dubois in his labors, as did the Revs. Duhamel and Hickey. From the establishment of Mt. St. Mary's college until the fall of 1894, the president of the college was acting pastor of the mountain church. The parish priests were the Revs. Michael Egan, John McGerry and John Purcell until 1832, between which time and 1838 the Rev. Francis B. Jamison and Thomas R. Butler presided. In this year the Rev. John McCaffery, a native of Emmitsburg and a pupil of the Rev. Dubois, succeeded to the presidency, an office which he held with great success until 1871 when he was succeeded by the Rev. John McClosky, who in 1877 gave place to the Rev. John A. Watersan; after him again in 1880, the Rev. John McClosky until his death on December 24, 1880.

FOUNTAINDALE SOLDIER WRITES OF "LUXURIES"

Second Lieutenant Luther Martin, now serving as a finance division officer with the U. S. Army in India, has told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin of Fountaindale, in a recent letter of the "luxuries" available to a Yankee in India at small cost.

An interesting account of his experiences as an American officer in India is contained in the letter which follows in part:

"I have seen many strange sights since leaving my quiet and peaceful home at Fountaindale and while this life is exciting I'll be glad again to be home with our family and friends. The life of an American soldier in India is a luxury of servants for every wish at a few pennies a day, and I'm afraid that I'll need some one to bring my coat and shine my shoes when I return home. Maybe my older brothers will be of help in that connection.

"The boat, train and plane trip to India was full of thrills, and will be worth the telling when restrictions have been lifted. Life here has many sides, the very rich and the very poor and distressed people all adhering to some particular form of religion of which there are an uncountable number. There are about 100 languages in the country, 30 of which are widely spoken. They have a god for success who is worshipped when a business deal is pending, a god of rain if there is a drought, and a god of sunshine if there is more rain than needed and so on to suit individual requirements. These people travel many miles to worship their special god.

"India is the richest country in the world, yet many people starve to death due, no doubt, to the practice of class distinction. One class will have food in abundance while others in the immediate vicinity may be starving. They do not slip in the backdoor of some neighbor's home who is sick and needs food as do we Americans. If our folks were here to see the starving people in the streets I feel sure that boxes of food would come to India in great numbers. We have been so very fortunate in that beautiful country of ours, and I will enjoy to the fullest living there the remainder of my life for having seen how the other half of the world lives.

"I visited one of their temples where I witnessed a cremation and a living sacrifice. But, the principal in the religious ceremony was a male goat, a beautiful animal, large and coal black. Only male goats are used for sacrificial purposes as the females are esteemed for their milk and food values. The altar and the goat's neck were washed with water before the goat was killed. I bet that Billy goat would have much preferred roaming our hills at home, had he known, to being served up to some god in whom he had no interest, but I suppose he died for a good cause in giving so many people religious contentment.

"The crematory here is crudely constructed of rough stone, simply a series of individual compartments of approximately 2 feet wide and 8 feet long with openings at both ends and top. While I was there a body was brought in on a wooden stretcher and placed in one of the compartments. Four additional bodies were being cremated at the time. Wood taken from a supply nearby was placed around the body. The oldest brother or next of kin first set fire to the wood at the foot of the body and then on all sides. Three hours are required to completely exume a body, leaving only ashes which are spread on the waters of a closely adjacent river. I had no desire for food the remainder of that day. This practice of cremating bodies while having religious aspects, also meets certain sanitary requirements and

FRIENDS WAGER WILLKIE WILL STICK TO PARTY

By JACK BELL
New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie may keep the Republicans and Democrats guessing until only a few days before the election, but intimate friends here are getting the 1940 GOP presidential nominee will stick with his adopted party.

Willkie, who has not said which candidate he will support in November, if either, admittedly has embarked on a campaign to force both President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as far out into the open as he can on domestic and foreign issues. He is particularly interested in those relating to post-war organization to secure future peace.

Politicians differ over Willkie's ability to swing any sizeable bloc of voters, but the mere fact that they cannot gauge the effect of his potential endorsement keeps most of them treading lightly. They remember that in 1940 he polled more votes for president than any Republican in history, after leaving the Democratic party.

Avoids Candidates
Willkie believes he has made substantial progress in helping move both Dewey, the GOP nominee, and the President toward what the Willkie adherents call more "liberal" views on foreign policy.

His friends point to Dewey's recent pronouncements against a four-power permanent alliance which might deprive small nations a representative voice in future peace plans as a case in point. The New York governor's supporters, however, say this stand was taken without reference to Willkie's former advocacy of giving the small nations a vote.

In his new role, Willkie has avoided attempts to link his name or face with either candidate. He would not go to Albany to confer with Dewey and his foreign policy deputy, John Foster Dulles. Dulles came to him in New York under Willkie-stipulated conditions which made it impossible for photographers to snap them together.

Hasn't Told Wife
The 1940 GOP nominee has two written invitations from President Roosevelt for a conference on foreign policy either at the White House or at Hyde Park, with the agreement that a meeting could be held entirely "off the record." He will accept neither, unless it is by virtual Presidential command—something that is not likely to happen.

Willkie's friends contend that he will play the game out until the last card. He has told them, they say, that he would not accept any position either candidate might have to offer after a November victory.

The 1940 GOP nominee tells visitors that he has told no one, including Mrs. Willkie, whom he will support in November. He insists that he had not made up his own mind, will not let himself think about it while he is engaged in forcing public discussion of political issues.

APB Finishes Emergency Job

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Aircraft Production Board, created nearly two years ago to crack a tight bottleneck in plane output, was slated today for dissolution—its job done—as the man who organized it departed from the Washington scene.

With close to 69,000 planes already built this year and production rolling at the rate of 100,000 planes annually, Charles E. Wilson, retiring executive vice chairman of the War Production Board, disclosed yesterday that members had recommended discontinuance of the emergency aircraft unit. The recommendation has gone to J. A. Krug, acting chief of WPB.

"We think the bottleneck has been broken," Wilson, smiling broadly, said at an informal news conference that closed his last day at the war agency.

FLYING BOMBS
London, Aug. 31 (AP)—New waves of German flying bombs hurled against London and southern England during Tuesday night, most of them apparently coming from the region west of Boulogne upon which Allied armies now are rapidly advancing.

The assault against the southern counties continued after daybreak and an alert also was sounded again in the London area.

SOUR GRAPES?
Bethlehem, Pa. (AP)—A soldier who claimed "canning is my hobby," tried in vain to coax a sugar certificate from the ration board without the necessary stamp. He left, disgruntled and with these words: "Well, I guess my good wine will spoil this year—thanks to you."

Truman To Accept In His Home Town

Lamar, Mo., Aug. 31 (AP)—Lamar's—and Truman's—great day has arrived.

Tonight in front of the Barton county court house, only a few tree-lined blocks from the white, seven-room frame house in which he was born, Sen. Harry S. Truman will be told that the Democrats have picked him to be their vice-presidential candidate.

After this news is relayed by Sen. Connally (D-Tex) in a five-minute speech, Truman will say thank you and fire the first official blast of his campaign. He will talk for about 20 minutes, with broadcasts of the two speeches on all networks starting at 10.30 (EWT).

The grandstand has been built in front of the old-fashioned brick court house. A press room has been set up in a one-time drug store.

FLYING BOMBS
London, Aug. 31 (AP)—New waves of German flying bombs hurtled against London and southern England during Tuesday night, most of them apparently coming from the region west of Boulogne upon which Allied armies now are rapidly advancing.

The assaults against the southern counties continued after daybreak and an alert also was sounded again in the London area.

SOUR GRAPES?
Bethlehem, Pa. (AP)—A soldier who claimed "canning is my hobby" tried in vain to coax a sugar certificate from the ration board without the necessary stamp. He left, disgusted and with these words:

"Well, I guess my good wine will spoil this year—thanks to you."

Truman To Accept
In His Home Town

Lamar, Mo., Aug. 31 (AP)—Lamar's—and Truman's—great day has arrived.

Tonight in front of the Barton county court house, only a few tree-lined blocks from the white, seven-room frame house in which he was born, Sen. Harry S. Truman will be told that the Democrats have picked him to be their vice-presidential candidate.

After this news is relayed by Sen. Connally (D-Tex) in a five-minute speech, Truman will say thank you and fire the first official blasts of his campaign. He will talk for about 20 minutes, with broadcasts of the two speeches on all networks starting at 10:30 (EWT).

The grandstand has been built in front of the old-fashioned brick court house. A press room has been set up in a one-time drug store.

PUBLIC SALE
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2
1:00 P. M. Sharp
The undersigned, having sold his home and discontinuing housekeeping will sell at public sale at his residence along Fairfield state highway, one mile west of Gettysburg, the following personal property:

NEW FRENCH GOVERNMENT BEING FORMED

Paris, Aug. 31 (AP)—The French National Committee of Liberation has announced formation of a provisional French government.

It is headed by Gen. Charles De Gaulle, as president of council and includes some Communists and men whose identity is cloaked in assumed war names.

The organization is expected to remain substantially unchanged until war prisoners and Frenchmen deported by the Nazis to work inside Germany can be returned to vote in a general election.

Guns were fired in the city for hours last night, and fighting was reported around Champigny, less than eight miles from the capital's center, possibly against small German resistance.

13 in "Cabinet"
Principal posts in the new government included:

Andre le Troquer, former Socialist party deputy, commissioner of liberated territories; Quartus Cerat, former Senator Henri Queuille and former Deputy Francois Billoux, commissioners for territory still occupied by German forces; former Deputy Andre Phillip, liaison between the provisional government and the temporary assembly; Gen. Georges Catroux, coordinator of Moslem questions.

Also announced were the names of 13 commissioners, a rank equivalent to cabinet minister. A former Communist deputy, whose name was given incompletely as Diethem, was named commissioner for war.

(Radio France in Algiers said last night that members of the French Committee of National Liberation and the consultative assembly had left Algiers for Paris.)

Special Events At Forest Park

Plans have been announced for a Free Fair to be conducted at Forest Park, Hanover, starting Monday, Labor Day, and continuing through the following Sunday, September 10. The event, which has been an annual highlight at the park since 1935, will include a midway of concessions and a number of special acts.

The feature attraction will be the Great Calvert, performing on 140 feet of high wire. There will be singers, comedians and other specialty entertainers.

On Saturday, September 2, there will be dancing to Don Tostle's orchestra and on Sunday the Southern York county band will give a free concert. There will be skating Labor Day and a free concert by the Taneytown boys' and girls' band Sunday, September 17.

The park will operate week-ends through September and October, the management has announced.

Polio Regulations Lifted At Hanover

In view of the fact that no cases of infantile paralysis have developed in Hanover, the Board of Health there has decided to lift the ban barring children under 16 years of age from places of public assembly, including theaters, churches and amusement parks, it was announced Tuesday by Chester A. Eckbert, president of the board.

The action was taken Monday afternoon at a meeting of the board after it had conferred with state health authorities, who are said to have approved of the lifting of the ban.

The health board has asked that parents have their children comply with rules of health and sanitation even though the ban, placed in effect 10 days ago, has been lifted. Should any cases of polio develop here, Mr. Eckbert said, youngsters will again be restricted.

Plenty Food In Paris For Rich; Germans Held Priority

By HAL BOYLE

Paris, Aug. 25 (Delayed) (AP)—The average Frenchman didn't do so badly under four years of Nazi rule—unless he worked for a living.

For those who "played ball" with the Germans, or who had a big bankroll to draw on, France remained one of the world's garden spots—a free-flowing land of borrowed plenty where you could buy anything you wanted.

"But you had to have the price," said Alec Jean Greder, who has learned considerably about life and people from 28 years of service as a floor waiter in the Grand hotel. Alec, who looks like a magazine caricature of the typical Frenchman with his neat pinpoint moustache, Gallic gestures and shrewd eyes, awoke me at 7 o'clock in a room lately inhabited and speedily vacated by a German baron.

40c for Water

He charged me 20 francs (40 cents) for a teapot full of boiling water, then sat and told me about high life and low life in Paris while we shared resynthesized coffee from Army kitchens.

"This is the first cup of real coffee I have had in four years," he said. "It is wonderful. Our national coffee has many things in it—but unfortunately none of them are coffee."

"Conditions were bad but liveable in my country for the last four years, but they have been terrible ever since the invasion and particularly the last six weeks, since the trains stopped coming in from the country and we have had no food."

"We were told many months ago by the British radio, however, to prepare for this time of shortages—and many Frenchmen have been quietly saving out and hiding what food they could. I and my wife put away some macaroni, chocolate, marmalade and potatoes."

Escape Starvation

"But of course, a few bottles of wine also," said Alec with a shrug and smile.

He said that families who had no such forethought, however, were fortunate to escape starvation, because the city was terribly short of meat, vegetables and other foods, due to the breakdown in transport. "There was practically no bread

There was no milk—since the invasion there has been no milk for babies.

"Before that a baby got only a half pint of milk a day after reaching nine months and at three and a half years the milk ration ceased entirely. There has been practically no milk for the old people and the sick in hospitals."

"Yes, there was no milk for the French in Paris—it was reserved for the Germans. They had first choice—and they took everything they wanted."

Plenty for Boche

"Our hungry people for the last few weeks would stand outside the barriers and watch German troops stuffing themselves with meat, butter, vegetables and bread. But that has been true throughout this long occupation. The Germans took what they wished—and then came our children and our sick."

"The only French who have been able to live well are those who can afford to buy most of their supplies in the black market—and if they have that kind of money they could live as well here as anywhere in the world."

Alec said the Germans had treated the French civilian populace "correctly" until the outbreak of street fighting six days ago.

"After that they became very nervous and afraid. At night they stayed behind their barbed wire barriers, except for strong patrols. They did not call 'halt' twice. Many civilians were wounded."

RAIL TIE-UP

Ridgway, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad officials today investigated a train derailment at the Ridgway yards here that tied up train movements for 16 hours on the Renovo division yesterday. F. M. Stewart, 49, of Erie, a brakeman, was the only person injured when the locomotive and 15 cars loaded with iron ore derailed. He suffered several fractured ribs.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

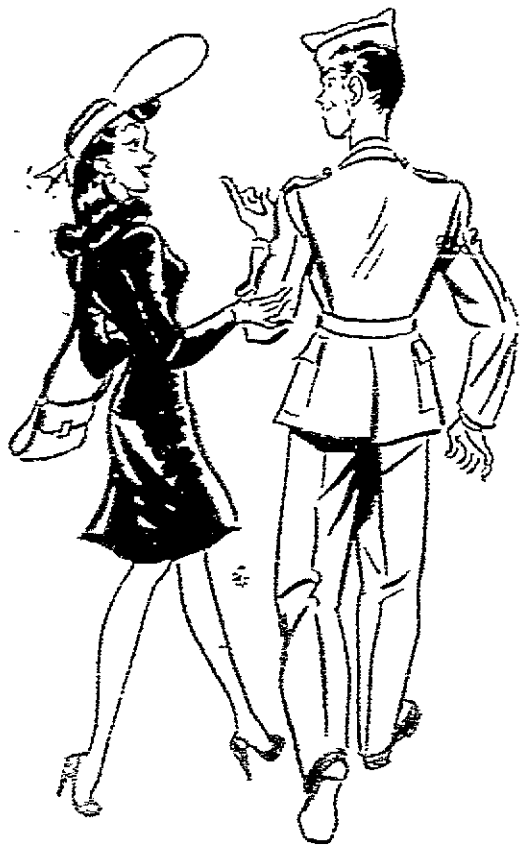

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in a our blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Chapter 23

Di reminded herself that didn't prove anything, but she was trembling with expectancy when she got out. Thad told the driver to wait and they started down the long, ill-lit dock. Her heels clicked on the planks.

She walked on tip-toe then, glad Thad was wearing tennis shoes. With the splash of water against the piling the constant creak and rattle of loose rigging on the boat. Lucky couldn't hear them coming. It would be better if she never knew they'd been here, much better.

The dock seemed endless. A dozen regrets and uncertainties flashed through Di's mind. It's a lousy trick. And dangerous. But I had to do something. He was falling for her, Tony, too. She can have Tony—and all his money. I'd rather have Thad. That's screwy. But he does something for me. I've got to have him.

They were nearing the sloop. She could see the white blur of the topsides, the lean black line of the mast. The portholes were only yellow dots. They wouldn't be able to see in till they were astern where light shone through the open com-panionway, throwing a warm glow beyond the cockpit to the dock. Thad walked quickly, silently, his eyes on the boat. Di held back. He didn't wait for her. He was at the sloop's quarter now. She held her breath till he moved on into the pale reflected light. He stopped.

She was afraid to look at his face. She moved up slowly till she stood beside him. Slowly, deliberately, she turned her head. She tried then to take in the scene as Thad would see it. She felt at one moment immense relief and a nagging sense of guilt. But stronger than both was triumph.

Lucky sat on the edge of the narrow bunk. Above her head a kerosene lamp burned dully, heat waves shimmering over it. Joe was lying with his head on Lucky's knees. She bent over him, her hand on his shoulder, and she was talking to him, her voice a murmur so faint the words didn't reach beyond the room.

Di said, "Oh . . ." A soft intake of breath, and then, "I—I should have known!" as if she blamed herself.

She raised her brown eyes to Thad's face, but he wasn't looking at her. Or at the boat. He was staring at the black water beyond, his expression of incredulity shifting as she watched. Slowly his eyes hardened, his mouth stiffened, a mask of pain and disillusionment coming down over his features.

Di clenched her hands, whispered, "Don't be harsh, darling. Can't you understand, a child of nature, motherless—"

Down in the cabin Lucky had raised her head, listening. Di slipped her arm through Thad's, drew him back along the dock out of earshot.

He spoke only once. "Joe . . . Joe of all people!"

"Darling, you forget she's known him much longer than she's known you." She spoke quietly, though excitement was surging in her.

Thad nodded. His face was impassive now, but she knew that behind that woodenness was a deep hurt. She could play on that, use it while he was still too shocked to care what happened to him.

When they reached the taxi, she said gently, "Let's go have a nightcap somewhere. Thad. It'll buck you up."

He looked at her as if he were surprised to find her there. "A nightcap? Yes. Why not?"

He helped her in and sat beside her. She slipped one slender hand into his, comfortably. His fingers closed over it with a gratitude that Thad was pathetic. She smiled into the darkness, a secret pleased smile.

A few days later, Lucky encountered Tony Riddle. From the misty hurt caused by Thad's recent coldness toward her, Lucky remembered to thank Tony for something he had done.

"Joe told me you'd brought his sloop, Tony. I know it was in terrible condition after the storm. But it meant a lot to him, getting the money. You're swell to do it."

He shook his head. "I didn't do anything for Joe. You did." Poor Joe! He had been in a bad way that night, filled with remorse, and babbling to her the sordid details of his life. But not all of them. Even in his drunken ramblings, he'd never mentioned Thad's name.

Tony said, "Joe's a good guy. And you've got him back in shape again. His own sister couldn't have done better."

She colored faintly and looked at her hands lying listless in her lap. His saying that meant more to her because Thad—Thad hadn't seemed to feel that way. She'd sensed, without comprehending it, that it was something to do with Joe that had made Thad so terribly different.

This morning at breakfast, when she'd said Joe was going on Blue

Dolphin because Liza'd been sold. Thad had given her an odd look and had been about to speak. She'd seen it in his face and waited, glad to have whatever this was out in the open. But he hadn't spoken. Di'd cut in with something trivial. Deliberately, Lucky thought Di was always so smooth about things like that. Lucky wished she could be. Maybe if she'd been more like Di she wouldn't have lost Thad. Lost? Not no!

He charged me 20 francs (40 cents) for a teapot full of boiling water, then sat and told me about highlife and lowlife in Paris while we shared readymade coffee from Army k-rations.

"This is the first cup of real coffee I have had in four years," he said. "It is wonderful. Our national coffee has many things in it—but unfortunately none of them are coffee."

"Conditions were bad but liveable in my country for the last four years, but they have been terrible ever since the invasion and particularly the last six weeks, since the trains stopped coming in from the country and we have had no food."

"We were told many months ago by the British radio, however, to prepare for this time of shortages—and many Frenchmen have been quietly saving out and hiding what food they could. I and my wife put away some macaroni, chocolate, marmalade and potatoes."

"No wine?" I asked, surprised.

Escape Starvation
"But of course, a few bottles of wine also," said Alec with a shrug and smile.

He said that families who had no such forethought, however, were fortunate to escape starvation, because the city was terribly short of meat, vegetables and other foods, due to the breakdown in transport.

"There was practically no bread.

There was no milk—since the invasion there has been no milk for babies.

"Before that a baby got only a half pint of milk a day after reaching nine months and at three and a half years the milk ration ceased entirely. There has been practically no milk for the old people and the sick in hospitals.

"Yes, there was no milk for the French in Paris—it was reserved for the Germans. They had first choice—and they took everything they wanted."

Plenty for Boche

"Our hungry people for the last few weeks would stand outside the barriers and watch German troops stuffing themselves with meat, butter, vegetables and bread. But that has been true throughout this long occupation. The Germans took what they wished—and then came our children and our sick."

"The only French who have been able to live well are those who can afford to buy most of their supplies in the black market—and if they have that kind of money they could live as well here as anywhere in the world."

Alec said the Germans had treated the French civilian populace "correctly" until the outbreak of street fighting six days ago.

"After that they became very nervous and afraid. At night they stayed behind their barbed wire barriers, except for strong patrols. They did not call 'halt' twice. Many civilians were wounded."

RAIL TIE-UP

Ridgway, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP) — Pennsylvania Railroad officials today investigated a train derailment at the Ridgway yards here that tied up train movements for 16 hours on the Renovo division yesterday. F. M. Stewart, 49, of Erie, a brakeman, was the only person injured when the locomotive and 13 cars loaded with iron ore derailed. He suffered several fractured ribs.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Chapter 23

Di reminded herself that didn't prove anything, but she was trembling with expectancy when she got out. Thad told the driver to wait and they started down the long, ill-lit dock. Her heels clicked on the planks.

She walked on tip-toe then, glad Thad was wearing tennis shoes. With the splash of water against the piling, the constant creak and rattle of loose rigging on the boat, Lucky couldn't hear them coming. It would be better if she never knew they'd been here, much better.

The dock seemed endless. A dozen regrets and uncertainties flashed through Di's mind. It's a lousy trick. And dangerous. But I had to do something. He was falling for her. Tony, too. She can have Tony—and all his money. I'd rather have Thad. That's screwy. But he does something for me. I've got to have him.

They were nearing the sloop. She could see the white blur of the topsides, the lean black line of the mast. The portholes were only yellow dots. They wouldn't be able to see in till they were astern where light shone through the open com-panionway, throwing a warm glow beyond the cockpit to the dock.

Thad walked quickly, silently, his eyes on the boat. Di held back. He didn't wait for her. He was at the sloop's quarter now. She held her breath till he moved on into the pale reflected light. He stopped.

She was afraid to look at his face. She moved up slowly till she stood beside him. Slowly, deliberately, she turned her head. She tried then to take in the scene as Thad would see it. She felt at one moment immense relief and a nagging sense of guilt. But stronger than both was triumph.

Lucky sat on the edge of the narrow bunk. Above her head a kerosene lamp burned dully, heat waves shimmering over it. Joe was lying with his head on Lucky's knees. She bent over him, her hand on his shoulder, and she was talking to him, her voice a murmur so faint the words didn't reach beyond the room.

Di said, "Oh..." A soft intake of breath, and then, "I—I should have known!" as if she blamed herself.

She raised her brown eyes to Thad's face, but he wasn't looking at her. Or at the boat. He was staring at the black water beyond, his expression of incredulity shifting as she watched. Slowly his eyes hardened, his mouth stiffened, a mask of pain and disillusionment coming down over his features.

Di clenched her hands, whispered, "Don't be harsh, darling. Can't you understand, a child of nature, motherless—"

Down in the cabin Lucky had raised her head, listening. Di slipped her arm through Thad's, drew him back along life dock out of earshot.

He spoke only once. "Joe... Joe of all people!"

"Darling, you forget she's known him much longer than she's known you." She spoke quietly, though excitement was surging in her.

Thad nodded. His face was impassive now, but she knew that behind that woodenness was a deep hurt. She could play on that, use it while he was still too shocked to care what happened to him.

When they reached the taxi, she said gently, "Let's go have a nightcap somewhere. Thad. It'll buck you up."

He looked at her as if he were surprised to find her there. "A nightcap? Yes. Why not?"

He helped her in and sat beside her. She slipped one slender hand into his comfortably. His fingers closed over it with a gratitude that in Thad was pathetic. She smiled into the darkness, a secret pleased smile.

A few days later, Lucky encountered Tony Riddle. From the misty hurt caused by Thad's recent coldness toward her, Lucky remembered to thank Tony for something he had done.

"Joe told me you'd brought his sloop, Tony. I know it was in terrible condition after the storm. But it meant a lot to him, getting the money. You're swell to do it."

He shook his head. "I didn't do anything for Joe. You did." Poor Joe! He had been in a bad way that night, filled with remorse, and babbling to her the sordid details of his life. But not all of them. Even in his drunken ramblings he'd never mentioned Thad's name. Tony said, "Joe's a good guy. And you've got him back in shape again. His own sister couldn't have done better."

She colored faintly and looked at her hands lying listless in her lap. His saying that meant more to her because Thad—Thad hadn't seemed to feel that way. She'd sensed, without comprehending it, that it was something to do with Joe that had made Thad so terribly different.

This morning at breakfast, when she'd said Joe was going on Blue

Dolphin because Liza'd been sold. Thad had given her an odd look and had been about to speak. She'd seen it in his face and waited, glad to have whatever this was out in the open. But he hadn't spoken. Di'd cut in with something trivial.

Deliberately, Lucky thought Di was always so smooth about things like that. Lucky wished she could be. Maybe if she'd been more like Di, she wouldn't have lost Thad. Lost? Not no!
